

PRESENTS EXPLANATION OF LEAGUE OF NATIONS

LORD ROBERT CECIL
PRESENTS HIS CAUSE
PRESIDENT HARDING

Thought to Have Told of Aims and Achievements of the League—Also Conferred With Senator Borah—Latter Issued Statement Saying People Are Opposed to Plan

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Lord Robert Cecil presented directly today to President Harding and to Senator Borah of Idaho, his explanation of the league of nations, its achievements and its hopes.

The noted British exponent of the league, who for nearly a month has been advocating the league cause in public addresses in the United States, had breakfast with Senator Borah, one of the leaders of the irreconcilable group in the senate fight over the treaty of Versailles, and then went to the white house where he had half an hour's conference with President Harding.

The impression made by Lord Robert's presentation on the president was in no wise revealed, the white house issuing no statement after the call and Lord Robert confining his comment to the assertion that he had had a pleasant discussion with Mr. Harding. Senator Borah, however, issued a formal statement which, while not directly setting forth the impression left by the conversations, declared the senator had told Lord Robert that the vast majority of the American people were uncompromisingly opposed to joining any plan or league which would involve America in European politics.

NO REDUCTION IN SUPPLY OF FARM PRODUCTS IN 1923

Less Foreign Demand
and More Home
Demand Forecast

WASHINGTON, April 21.—At least no reduction in the supply of American farm products this year a slightly less favorable foreign demand and an active demand at home as long as the present business conditions continue were forecast today by a committee of 18 prominent economists and statisticians in a report to Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture after a two day conference here.

"It is of the most vital interest to American Agriculture," the report said, "that the United States lend aid in every way possible to the settlement of the reparations and other European problems."

"The favorable factors with respect to foreign demand are:

"First the influence of American prosperity upon the demand for European goods and second the possibility that the slight business recovery that has occurred in a number of European countries may gradually gain momentum."

"The unfavorable factors are:

First, the progressive piling up of government debts on the continent of Europe, with its offset upon exchange, currency and business; second, the Ruhr situation."

"With some overflow of the business activity of the United States to the rest of the world, particularly the non-European part of the world, the prospect would rather be that there will be some increase in the production of goods in foreign countries. We cannot, therefore, confidently offer any reason for the expectation that our farmers will meet any less severe competition in European markets during the coming year than they have met during the last year."

Predict Active Demand.

Predicting the domestic demand for agricultural products would be active as long as the present condition of business with full employment continued, the committee said most competent observers seem to agree that the country may expect general business prosperity to last at least six to nine months longer. The enormous net movement of 1,120,000 persons from farms to towns and cities in the two years ending with December 31, 1922, leaves the farmers in an unfavorable position to meet emergencies, the committee declared.

With European countries making efforts to place their grain production on a new basis the heavy wheat exports of the last two years may be expected to decrease.

FOUR MEN ALMOST INSTANTLY KILLED
WHEN PLANE FALLS

Martin Bomber Falls
in Great Miami River
at Dayton, Ohio

(By The Associated Press)

DAYTON, Ohio, April 21.—Four men were almost instantly killed and one other probably fatally injured this afternoon when a Martin air service bombing plane, nose dived into the great Miami river here. The dead are:

Captain W. R. Lawson, pilot, Langley Field, Virginia.

Technical Sergeant Bidwell, Langley Field, Virginia.

Sergeant Wesley H. Rowland, Selfridge Field, Michigan.

Civilian U. M. Smith, bureau of standards, Washington, D. C.

The injured:

Technical Sergeant F. B. Shaw, Selfridge Field, Michigan.

Smith died after the accident, at a hospital.

All five men suffered fractured skulls. The accident occurred as the men were taking off for Langley Field after having been here for several weeks. The big plane left the ground heading south but owing to a heavy wind witnesses said, it was evident that the pilot realized that he could not clear the Herman avenue bridge just south of McCook Field and sought to turn his plane to avoid crashing into it. The strong wind caught the machine and twisted it into a nose dive which ended in the river.

All the men in the plane had parachutes on their backs but were unable to use them on account of the sudden fall of the plane being only a short distance from the ground at the time it dived. The crew was plunged into the water, most of them out of the ship as the bodies were seen to come to the service one by one.

SENTENCED TO LIFE FOR MURDER

(By The Associated Press)

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 21.—Sentenced to life imprisonment by a criminal court jury here today for the killing of Harry Sutton, member of a prominent Tennessee family, Elizabeth Wyndham, and W. A. Dover, her alleged paramour were confined in the county jail tonight. The trial lasted four days.

The killing, according to the evidence, was the outcome of a love triangle. Sutton and Dover, both married men having been infatuated with the woman, who was recently divorced on the charge of adultery, Sutton being named co-respondent. Mrs. Wyndham, daughter of the former county official was employed at a local bakery and the killing occurred when the trio met early one morning while she was on her way to work. Dover claimed to have fired the shots in self defense, but several witnesses testified that the woman wielded the gun which ended Sutton's life. Mrs. Wyndham failed to show any aversion when the jury returned the verdict.

Boy Finds $19,275
in Bonds in Fruit Jar

(By The Associated Press)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 21.—A dirty fruit jar found in an alley by a small boy who broke it only to have the "pretty colored paper" taken away by his playmates, contained $19,275 in bonds stolen from the bank of Maiden Rock, Maiden Rock, Wis., on January 11, last, secret service men and police announced tonight. The jar was found by Raymond Knutson, seven years old, lying between a sleigh and a garage. Young Knutson was playing ball with several other youths late yesterday when he found the jar. He broke the glass container and when the roll of bonds fell out they were seized by the other youngsters. He did not get any himself.

One of the boys, Irving Spiegel, 12, got $7,625 worth of bonds. In true pirate style he buried his "loot" in a vacant lot. Today he dug it up, took it down town to the First National bank and offered to sell it. Bank officials called detectives and secret service men. They questioned Spiegel and learned the names of the other boys. The rest of the bonds were soon recovered. One boy had $11,000 worth.

C. D. Brown of the Minnesota Bankers' association's protective department, declared that Gene Saunders, who was arrested at Davenport, Iowa, in connection with the Toledo robbery admitted that he was the leader of the Maiden Rock bank robbery gang.

USING DYNAMITE
TRYING TO SAVE MANITOBA TOWN

Portage La Prairie in Danger of Destruction
from Flood

(By The Associated Press)

WINNIPEG, April 21.—Engineers resorted to dynamite today in an attempt to blast a new channel for flood waters of the Assiniboine river and check the threatened inundation of Portage LaPrairie.

The waters already spread over the outskirts, were rapidly climbing toward the center of the city. The city hall was being surrounded by volunteers of the Canadian Pacific railway began blasting in the downtown section in the hope of diverting the flood.

The danger to Portage LaPrairie, sixty miles west of here became imminent early today when an ice gorge in the Assiniboine jammed and the waters piled up, breaking thru the river banks and inundating a wide farming area to the southwest.

Bridges have gone out; farmers who did not desert their homes have been marooned; lines of communication were cut off and downtown sections of Portage isolated. The water was four feet deep in some places, and many families were imprisoned.

The situation at Brandon and surrounding districts was reported improved today, with the water receding slowly and the ice in the Assiniboine moving freely. Morris and other points threatened with inundation during the last two days were believed today to be out of danger.

SOVIET RUSSIA
GOING TO STAND
ON ITS OWN LEGS

Will Not Pay Debts of Heavy Price for Recognition

(By The Associated Press)

MOSCOW, April 21.—As the Communist party congress draws to an end it becomes apparent the party is practically solidly in favor of Soviet Russia standing on its own legs and taking a chance of obtaining favorable attention with the foreign powers later rather than pay its debts or any similar heavy price for recognition now.

The newspaper Izvestia today says the congress' final approval of the policy outlined by G. S. Zinovieff, chairman of the central committee is of foremost importance. This program includes firm adherence to the dictatorship of the proletariat, a strict monopoly on foreign trade, direction by the communist party of the economic reconstruction of the country and approval of the export of grain.

Adoption of these resolutions by Izvestia adds shows the party to be of the firm belief that Russia has passed the worst and now can look to the future calmly and shrewdly seeing no reason why she should tremble before the "threats of the masters of capitalism: Europe."

BRINGS BACK NEWS OF SITUATION ON SOUTH FOX ISLAND

Lived on Frozen Potatoes and Beans for Several Weeks

(By The Associated Press)

CHARLEVOIX, Mich., April 21.—Grim details of how eight men and one woman were on the verge of starvation for three weeks, of how the woman had guarded the scant supplies from the ravenous men and how work had ceased and disorder broken forth when only beans and frozen potatoes remained, were told late today by Frank J. Parker of Chicago, owner of the rescue plane that landed on South Fox Island. Parker was brought to the mainland by a government machine after his own had been crippled in landing.

For three weeks the party on the island had nothing to eat but frozen potatoes and beans, Parker told newspapermen. He said he had had talks with the men on the island during the eighteen hours he was stranded there, and was sure of the conditions.

Work Had Stopped

When he stopped Parker said, and Neils Ask, foreman of the wood cutters, was having difficulty handling the situation.

The supply of beans and potatoes on hand when he arrived, he said, was sufficient only for a few days, and the temper of the loggers was growing worse hourly. Attempts had been made he was told to raid the cabin containing the provisions.

When the government plane took off Saturday the men although fed from the provisions landed by Parker's plane, begged to be taken away.

Some of them, Parker said, wrought to a high pitch by their long battle against starvation, dropped to their knees and prayed to be taken ashore.

A car ferry tomorrow is to attempt to break thru the ice from Frankfort and bring the party from the island.

Parker's plane, dispatched by The Chicago Herald and Examiner and provisioned by Wilson & Co., Chicago packers, was the first to reach South Fox Island with food supplies. It dropped 200 pounds of bacon and other foodstuffs and then was forced down by engine trouble.

TABLE RESOLUTION
ENDORSE WEEKS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The resolution of Mrs. William Cumming Story of New York, endorsing the state of Secretary Weeks of the war department on pacifism and preparedness which was tabled yesterday by the continental congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution again today disrupted the calm of the delegates and after half an hour of confusion and uproar a similar declaration was adopted under a suspension of the rules.

The fight over this resolution and the inauguration of Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook of Pennsylvania and other national officers provided virtually the only excitement at the concluding sessions of the annual congress. Tonight most of the 2,000 delegates had left for their homes.

EARTH'S MAGNETISM
DIMINISHING EACH YEAR

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, April 21.—The earth's magnetism is diminishing each year one thousandth part of itself, Dr. Louis A. Bauer, a director of Carnegie Institute, Washington, said to the American Philosophical Society here today. Dr. Bauer declared he was satisfied with the accuracy of this conclusion which he had reached after several months analysis of the earth's magnetic field.

The loss of magnetism, he explained, would affect the magnetism of compasses and surveying instruments, but with no perceptible trace of error.

Dr. Bauer said his recent analysis tended to confirm the theory that the magnetic axis of the earth was slowly bending west and toward the equator.

TWO IMPORTANT BILLS
TO BE CONSIDERED THIS WEEK BY LEGISLATURE

Dunlap Police Bill and O'Neill Women's
Eight Hour Day Measure Will be Discarded or Approved—Mrs. O'Neill is Confident—Not So Certain on the Dunlap Bill

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 21.—Two important bills on which legislative interest has been centered for several weeks, the Dunlap state police bill and the O'Neill women's eight hour day measure, will be approved or discarded by the senate and house of the state legislature during the coming week.

Wednesday has been selected by Speaker Shanahan and Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill as the date for third reading and roll call on the woman's bill. It was passed on from second reading unamended, giving house members the opportunity to vote next week on its merits as they view them.

Mrs. O'Neill is confident her measure will win in the house, and if it reaches the senate she will agree to an amendment exempting nurses from its provisions.

Senator Dunlap, Republican, Savoy, has held his constabulary bill on third reading for several weeks, awaiting the day when prospects for its passage are bright. Now, believing quick action by the senate is imperative, that the bill, if passed there will not be crowded out in the lower house's last busy weeks, he is expected to call up the police bill next week.

Wednesday is considered the logical day since all senators are not here Tuesdays and no big business is attempted Thursday with the solons anxious to get home.

Granting that both the woman's bill and the state police bill pass the house of their inception, each is expected to meet sledge hammer attacks in the other house.

The Constabulary measure's fate in the lower house particularly is doubtful.

Should Senator Dunlap's bill be defeated Wednesday the substitute bill which has been held in abeyance will make its appearance soon, the Associated Press is reliably informed. It will be sponsored in the state by the military affairs committee, composed of former service men.

Ex-Guard Says He Counted 119 Blows
Given Tabert

(By The Associated Press)

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 21.—The high water mark in the number of lashes alleged to have been administered to Martin Tabert, North Dakota youth, who died while serving as a convict in a private lease camp at Clara, Fla., marked the testimony given today to the joint legislative committee investigating reported brutalities to prisoners.

M. Bell, a former guard at the Putnam Lumber company where Tabert died fourteen months ago, said he counted 119 blows struck by Walter Higginbotham, whipping boss, now under indictment of first degree murder in connection with the Dakotian's death.

Higginbotham testified Tuesday that he hit Tabert ten "pretty" blows and that the boy was able to return to work the following day.

Other witnesses testified today that they prepared the body for burial and one, Arthur Johnson, a former convict, said he acted as a pall bearer for the body and stated that it was laid away across the river from Dixie in Taylor county at an isolated spot and in a hole filled with water. Witnesses for the lumber company have previously testified that Tabert was buried at Mingo cemetery near Clara, Fla., and the singing of hymns by townspeople and that an itinerant preacher officiated.

The committee at the request of representatives for the lumber company took under advisement a trip to Clara in an effort to get straight the conflicting versions of the funeral.

The cabin was occupied by her until she left the state on December 18.

A THOUGHT

The sluggard will not plow by reason of the cold; therefore shall he beg in harvest and have nothing.—Prov. 20:4.

Most farmers are insolvent; cannot satisfy their own wants, have an ambition out of all proportion to their practical force, and so do lean and beg day and night continually.—Emerson.

Some of the people who live along the C. & S. L. and are fearful of the abandonment of the road, now feel that increase in freight rates would not be half as bad as to be without the railroad shipping facilities.

It must be that these dancing cranks who are daily setting new world endurance records are injuring themselves physically and shortening their lives. It is consoling to remember that these same dancers will not be missed so very, very much.

The government seems to be very much in earnest in the effort to war on the sugar growers. Plenty of facts have been produced to show that the great increase in prices has not come about either because of the short supply or tariff. Uncle Sam is in earnest on this subject can bring about lower prices.

Among important railroad news items is the announcement that the Union Pacific will spend $10,000,000 in improvements this

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

No Doubt About It

By Berton Braley

YOU may flatter yourself you are very fit,
With a mighty wallop in either mitt,
With all of your pristine strength and grit,
In spite of your hair that's graying;
You may sport about and kick up your heels,
Denying the years that your face reveals,
You may say a man is "young as he feels,"
But that is an empty saying.

If your heart is gay and your feet are light,
And the glow in your eyes is keen and bright,
Defying time in its dizzy flight,
And the clothes that you wear are dapper,
You may fool yourself and the older folk,
But all your efforts are but a joke,
For you are simply a "nice old bloke,"
In the eyes of the pretty flapper.

DON'T blind yourself to the salient facts,
Though your vigorous strength from your age subtracts,
Though you think a man is young as he acts
And to mix with the kids you hunger;
It ain't no use—you have come too far,
And though it gives you an awful jar,
You're as old as the youngsters think you are
And not a darn bit younger!

walks along a railroad highway if someone of the recent cases of trespassing are taken into account. In South America the railroads have the advantage of such a law, and in Ecuador there is a more drastic provision that holds one liable if live stock is allowed to stray along a railroad track.

England is more like South America in this respect than is North America. As matters now stand in this country, a trespasser has no claim against a railroad company in the event of accident to his person, but on the other hand the railroad companies, of their own free will and accord, extend first aid to such unfortunate that places a burden upon the railroads that can not be met in the least degree by enforcing a penalty for violation of a trespassing law, such as farmers and other property owners are in position to enforce.

BACKED OFF THE BOARDS.
Secretary Weeks was recently waited upon by a delegation from a pacifist organization whom he asked to state definitely what changes they would like to see made in the American military policy should be applied to the gestions to make. The state of mind of the secretary's callers is typical of the thought of most of the pacifists who afflict our ears. They recite the horrors of war, the blessings of an international court that would substitute arbitration for bloodshed, and the evil of maintaining large and expensive armaments. Pressed for specifications as to how their policy should be applied to the United States, they are at a loss for a reply.

Nobody takes exception to the theories of the pacifist. Everybody would like to see wars abolished, effective international courts established, and soldiers and sailors returned to productive employment. But the pacifist takes no note of the lessons of history, which those charged with the safety of the country must consider. Certain disasters would be invited if the United States were stripped of its defenses, or if it entrusted its safety to an international court controlled by the very powers that would despoil us if they could.

The story demonstrates a human emotion true to life, in which innocent people are made the victim of another's weaknesses. Many of us have known the sorrow of being made the victim of events, all have felt the false accusations made by others. The story therefore, has a very human appeal to all of us.

GOVERNMENT MAY USE NAVY IN WAR
ON RUM RUNNERS

Also Discussing Smuggling With British Officials

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 21.—While an unofficial survey is in progress to determine what naval facilities are available to wage war on rum runners, within the three mile limit, important measures for co-operation between the United States and British governments to prevent smuggling are under discussion. No official intimation has come from the white house that the navy would be drawn into the "dry" fight.

It became known that a number of methods of preventing smuggling on the high seas had been suggested to the state department.

As indicating the activities of the state department in the matter of rum ships, in addition to the negotiations pending with Great Britain it was pointed out that Canadian authorities had issued instructions that a shipping board permit should accompany applications to transfer vessels from American to Canadian registry. The department has taken up with the British ambassador the question of cancelling the British registry of American owned vessels used for smuggling liquor and has asked the Canadian authorities to refuse clearance papers to liquor vessels destined for the United States.

SIXTH AIRPLANE HAS STARTED FOR ISLAND

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, April 21.—The sixth airplane to take part in the attempt to relieve the nine men and one woman reported marooned and starving on South Fox Island in ice-locked Lake Michigan, departed from Chicago today despite admissions that the story of suffering at the camp was a hoax perpetrated to get tobacco for the wood cutters on the island.

From Frankfort, Mich., some seventy miles south of the island, came reports that a huge ice crushing car ferry belonging to the Ann Arbor Railroad was on its way to the island and expected to arrive there before daylight tomorrow to definitely determine the condition of the islanders and to rescue a Brigadier airplane which "panicked" with its Pilot John Miller, its owner, Francis J. Parker of Chicago and two Chicago newspapermen.

The Miller plane made a forced landing on the island while trying to carry two hundred pounds of food to the supposedly starving inhabitants. It was located a few hours later by another plane which dropped bundles of food for the islanders and then returned to the mainland after ascertaining that the Miller plane was uninjured and hoped to repair their plane.

In all, six airplanes have taken part in the effort to carry food to the island, two of them being wrecked on the mainland within sight of their destination, another disabled on the island, a fourth lost in a fog while the remaining two tonight were still waiting an opportunity to land and ascertain conditions on the island.

FLOODS NOW HAVE TOWN IN MANITOBA
ENTIRELY ISOLATED

Roads Entering Town of Lapriac Covered With Water

(By The Associated Press)
WINNIPEG, Man., April 21.—Encircled by a vast lake of swiftly flowing waters from the Assiniboine river and lowlands to the southwest, Portage La Prairie, fifty miles west of this city, in the center of a rich agricultural district is tonight isolated so far as rail and vehicle transit is concerned.

The roads on the outskirts of the city are impassable, many of them being covered with several feet of water, while most of the city streets are inundated, the water reaching a depth of four feet in some localities. The most end of the city is entirely covered with water, while early this evening the flood was nearing the principal thoroughfare in the downtown section of the city.

This afternoon the water receded four inches, but was coming in again tonight from the west, and in that section of the city a slight rise is reported, making conditions worse if anything. Water is also reported as coming in from the east, flooding the provincial government training school farm and backing up in the city. Early this evening the hydro-electric sub-station was flooded cutting off the lights, but this trouble had been overcome. City fire engines were used to clear the basement of the telephone exchange.

Train service has been entirely suspended and many trains both east and west bound are held in the yards with the waters almost to the car steps. Business has been partly demoralized, some stores being closed and the telephone service is disrupted as many clerks and operators are marooned in their homes.

BRING SUIT TO NULLIFY SALE OF
C. R. & I. RAILROAD

Other Roads Claim That it Gives N. Y. Central Advantage

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, April 21.—Suit for an injunction to nullify the interstate commerce commission's order permitting the New York Central Lines to purchase the Chicago River and Indiana Railroad has been filed in the United States district court here by the Pennsylvania railroad and other lines.

Revenues involved in the suit were said to aggregate more than $10,000,000 annually. In May, 1921, the commission decided that the New York Central could acquire the stock of the Chicago River and Indiana Railroad and obtain control of the Chicago Junction Railroad under a ninety-year lease.

The latter's tracks cover the stock yards, while the Chicago River and Indiana, a road three miles long, connects the stock yards with outside lines. Control of the two by the New York Central, rival roads hold, gives that line a strategic position in the heart of the Chicago packing and manufacturing districts.

cline, and the committee advises that American production should be readjusted to meet these changing conditions. The condition of winter wheat is unfavorable, intended plantings of spring wheat are 5.5 per cent below last year's acreage, and weather thus far has been unfavorable for spring planting. The corn situation is about normal, the committee found, but between now and the time the new crop is harvested there will be some tendency toward corn shortage because of the larger number of pigs on feed. Hog production has been heavy and is still in a state of expansion. Unless bad weather and other conditions have reduced the number of spring pigs to an unusual degree the price of hogs may be depressed next fall and winter.

UNIVERSALISM IS UNIVERSALISM IS
CAUCASIAN RACE

Harvard Professor Says That Would Be Its Extinction

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, April 21.—Universalism, or the abolition of all national boundaries and aspirations, would result in the virtual extinction of the white race and the destruction of civilization and all higher culture, William McDougall, all of Harvard University, declared in an address at Northwestern University tonight.

Professor McDougall attributed the spread of anarchic and cosmopolitan ideals to the lack of Christian ethics.

He declared that both these ideals spring from one grave defect, namely that they assume all men, all races of men are for all practical purposes essentially alike.

"A century or at most two centuries of the way of universal ethics, untempered by any remnant of national ethics," he predicted, would then result in the practical extinction of the white race in all of the two Americas and in Africa, Australia and Asia; the dwindling remnant being absorbed wholly in the flood of colored peoples.

KITCHEN CUPBOARD

By NELLIE MAXWELL

EARLY SPRING SALADS

THE following salad is made when fresh tomatoes cannot be procured or are too expensive:

Glaze Tomato Salad.—Dissolve one-eighth of a box of gelatin in a little cold water. Measure half a can of tomatoes, put through a sieve to remove seeds. Season with pepper and salt, beat on it boiling, then pour over the gelatin. Put into cups or molds to harden. Remove and place on lettuce leaves with a spoonful of mayonnaise on top of each.

Baked Apple Salad.—Choose a good-sized apple of good variety, such as the Northern Spy. Bake until well done and the skin is loose from the apple. When cold remove the skin and stuff the apple center with nuts. Serve with whipped cream or on lettuce with mayonnaise dressing.

Fruit Salad.—Cut in dice three mellow apples, remove the pulp from three oranges. Blanch a cupful of almonds and shred them, dice one cupful of pineapple. Mix all these ingredients and serve on lettuce with a mayonnaise dressing. Garnish with halves of walnut meats and candied cherries.

Cut celery and nuts fine, using one-half as much nuts in measure as celery, add French dressing, let stand for an hour and serve on lettuce.

Lily Salad.—Cut hard-boiled egg whites into petal-shaped pieces, leaving the yolk perfectly whole. Rub each yolk with butter, mustard and vinegar, mixed well. Serve on beds of crisp or cooked spinach with mayonnaise for dressing.

Chestnut Salad.—Mix a little sweet cream into a cream cheese with some finely chopped sweet green pepper. Divide into pieces and roll in cracker crumbs that have been browned. Shape in the form of chestnut burrs and insert a crooked chestnut in each. Serve with mayonnaise.

The parsnip is especially good served with boiled meats. Sliced or diced cooked parsnips are very good baked in a white sauce as are escalloped potatoes.

Mrs. Annie Snyder, a well known resident of Morgan county, passed away at 5:15 o'clock Saturday morning at the family residence, 504 North Church street. Death came after a long period of ill health, but it was only within recent weeks that the deceased was confined to her bed.

Mrs. Snyder was born near Orleans on March 9, 1864, her name prior to her marriage being Miss Anna Soper. In young womanhood she was united in marriage to George Snyder, who passed away some five years ago.

After living for a number of years on a farm near Nortonville, Mr. and Mrs. Snyder removed to Alexander neighborhood, later becoming residents of Jacksonville. Last fall Mrs. Snyder removed to this city, which has since been her home.

The deceased was a member of the Alexander M. E. church and was a woman who lived a devoted Christian life. Her life was one of unselfish devotion to her home and family, but her interests were not confined to the home circle and there are many who can testify to the kindness of her heart.

Surviving are the following sons and daughters: James Snyder, St. Louis; John Snyder, Jacksonville; George Snyder, Franklin; Mrs. Jesse Lawton, Alexander; Misses Anna and Elizabeth Snyder, of Jacksonville.

There are also the following half sisters and brothers: Walter Hines, New Berlin; John Hines, Springfield; Mrs. Clara Lester, North Dakota; Mrs. Mary Knox, California; Mrs. Ellen Wright of this city.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon from the Alexander M. E. church, with interment in the Franklin cemetery.

THE U. S. V. B. CENTER AT JACKSONVILLE STATE HOSPITAL

The Palmleaf, a publication published at Springfield in the interest of the charitable and educational institutions of the state contained an interesting article in a recent issue about the U. S. Veterans bureau and vocational training centers at Jacksonville State Hospital. The article follows:

"In a big light sunny room, locked in with some 50 or 60 neuro-psychiatric patients, the teachers of the U. S. Veterans bureau at Jacksonville maintain one of the happiest and most diligent groups of occupational therapy I have ever visited.

"Its orderliness, discipline and definite program distinguish it particularly. To the left as you enter you see as diligent and interested group in typing, shorthand, bookkeeping and other commercial and academic subjects as you would see in a normal business school; separated from this section by a wide aisle set off with partitions, is another class, all quietly engaged in crafts work—rugs, weaving baskets, carving beautiful designs on wood, painting furniture, lettering signs; every man is busy about his own business, here may also be seen the display of finished products; an attractive collection of wicker furniture, toys, antique chests in old blues and golds and reds, baskets for sweet peas, baskets for fruits and nuts, baskets for every purpose, carved boxes and carved plaques, tooled leather, well designed writing desks, dressing tables and clever little stands of spoons and wood that are a credit to the teacher and pupil.

"Back of this central room is another where auto mechanics (linker to their heart's content) every kind of machine; here also are benches for manual training where the frames for the wicker furniture (inlaid bookends, candle sticks, the chests for carving in fact all the wood-work for the other departments is supplied from these benches.

"A visitor hardly realizes that the men of this school are subnormal so quietly diligent are they. Now and then you see one sitting in deep gloom or behold one pacing excitedly back and forth, but ordinarily they are attending to the task assigned to them.

"Certainly much credit is due Mr. Koloff and his staff of earnest, sympathetic teachers who have wrought this good work through months of prolonged effort where discouragements must have been frequent.

PRICE VALUE

Is What You Pay Is What You Receive

You Pay for a De Laval Whether You Buy One or Not

"If It's From Hall's That's All"

If you are using a worn-out, inferior cream separator, or skimming cream by hand, you are surely wasting enough cream to pay for a De Laval in a short time.

The selection of a cream separator is more important than that of any other machine on the farm, for none other can either save or waste so much, twice a day, 365 days a year.

A De Laval Separator will:

- Skim cleaner for many more years than any other;
- Skim milk clean at lower temperature than any other separator;
- Deliver a higher trading cream, which is more acceptable to the creamery, and easier and less costly to ship;
- And deliver a cream which will make better butter.

Do not be deceived by separators which are claimed to be "just as good and cost less." When you consider its greater savings, greater reliability, longer life, the extra time it saves, and the greater satisfaction it gives, the De Laval is, in the end, by far the most economical.

IS A EUROPEAN DISEASE

No Record of, or Name for, Malaria Has Been Found Among the American Indians.

The slow diseases which sap vitality do not have spectacular records, but in the long run the damage which they do is incalculably greater than that of epidemics, writes Herbert J. Spinden in the World's Work. Malaria, for instance, is a greater obstacle today to the development of the tropics than yellow fever ever was, although the latter could accomplish much at one fell swoop. For one thing, the effects of malaria reach around the globe and into nearly all its habitable parts.

The three kinds of malaria are described by the Greek physician Hippocrates and the names which we use today are of Roman origin. The two-day fever is called tertian, or third, because the Romans counted both ends of any numerical sequence, and the three-day fever is called quartan, which means fourth. There is no quarantining of malaria in America before the discovery. We do not find terms for it in American Indian language nor do we find any records that the early explorers in Central and South America suffered from this disease. For instance, Cortes led an army across the base of the peninsula of Yucatan, through a region of swamps and flooded streams where today malaria is rife in every village, yet we find no mention of this illness among any of his troops or Indian burden bearers.

MANY PROBLEMS WILL BE DISCUSSED

GALESBURG, Ill.—Problems in many branches of science will be discussed at the sixteenth annual meeting of the Illinois State Academy of Science, to be held here May 3, 4, and 5. The meetings will be held at Knox and Lombard colleges, which will be hosts to the many scientists expected to attend.

One of the interesting discussions will be a symposium on the doctrine of evolution, in which three leaders in its many branches of science will give their views. Dr. John L. Coulter of the University of Chicago, will present the biologist's view. The zoologist's view will be given by Dr. Charles Zeleny of the University of Illinois, while the paleontologist's idea of evolution will be discussed by Dr. T. A. Savage of the University of Illinois. The general topic for discussion under this head will be, "The Doctrine of Evolution: What is it? What are the facts on which it is based?"

The Illinois branch of the Mathematical Association of America will meet at the same times as does the academy of science.

Biology, agriculture, chemistry, physics, geology, geology, medicine and psychology will be represented among the science branches to be discussed.

The general sessions will begin the evening of May 3 with an address by the president, Dr. W. C. Bayley of the University of Illinois. His subject will be "Studying Mines with a Microscope."

OWSLEY PAYS TRIBUTE TO MEN OF THE SOUTH

Says Present Day Soldiers Pause With Wonder and Admiration at Their Accomplishments.

NEW ORLEANS.—A tribute to the men of the South, who after four hard years of war took up the problems of reconstruction and peace, was paid by Alvin Owsley, American Legion National Commander, who spoke at the recent annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans in New Orleans.

"We who are seeking a solution of our Post-war problems pause with wonder and admiration," Commander Owsley stated, "when we recall with what matchless fortitude our men of the Confederate Army, weary of war and its trying duties, turned from them to the solution of tasks more irksome than war, itself, had provided."

Hospitalization and rehabilitation of disabled veterans of the World War and Americanism were named by Commander Owsley as the most vital problems in reconstruction which the American Legion is attempting to solve.

"Our duty is to restore men to a condition of health and usefulness where they can have an honorable place in society," the Legion leader said. "The first and obvious thing is to mend their physical bodies. Broken limbs can be cared for. Broken minds, lost sight, destroyed hearing, these demand a more suitable treatment. Tubercular patients must be segregated and sent to a healing climate. Those suffering from shell shock and mental disorders must be removed to quiet surroundings and nursed back to their normal health."

An immigration holiday for a fixed period of ten years was recommended by Commander Owsley as the first step in solving the question of Americanism. During this period, he said, the foreigners in America must be taught the ideals of American citizenship. Enforcement of existing statutes providing for compulsory school attendance will be urged by the Legion to insure all citizens the opportunity of education, according to the Legion chief.

During his stay in New Orleans Commander Owsley became a member of the Sons of Confederate Veterans. Both grandfathers of Commander Owsley served in the Confederate army during the Civil War.

LEGION ENDOWMENT FUND NEAR ITS GOAL

Receipts for Permanent Decoration of all Graves of American Dead on Foreign Soil Are Coming In.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Realization of the endowment fund sought by the American Legion to provide for the permanent annual decoration of all graves of American World War dead on foreign soil is nearer.

Announcement by the national Treasurer of the Legion that the daily receipts for this fund are mounting is taken as an indication that the attainment of the goal set will be reached by May 30. Each mail that comes to Legion headquarters bears the contribution of former soldiers, Legions, Legion Posts, civic and fraternal organizations and of those who hold dear the cause for which the men sleeping on foreign soil gave their lives.

Hollywood Post of the American Legion composed of film actors and studio employees contributed a check for $105.00. The organization of the "Forty Men and Eight Horses" of Rochester, N. Y., which won a prize at the annual "Mardi Gras" of Legion Posts in Rochester, sent the reward to the endowment fund for overseas graves immediately. In Keene, N. H., where the Legion Post is named after a soldier who lies buried overseas, members of the Rotary Club sent a large check with the specific charge that it should be applied for the decoration of the grave of the hero whose name is honored by the Legionnaires of that city.

Many of the letters inclosing donations to the fund reveal strong personal sentiment. One who signs herself "A double Gold Star Mother," sent a donation expressing best wishes for the success of the fund. Another letter read: "The enclosed check is from an inmate of the state penitentiary who wishes to do his part. Please acknowledge this." (From the warden of the institution). A former "Padre," as he described himself in his letter said: "Here's my iron man for the graves endowment fund. Good luck to the good cause."

Announcement of the co-operation of many of the larger newspapers in the country has been received at Legion Headquarters. These newspapers working through the Legion Posts of their cities expect to aid the fund by appeals to their readers.

THE EMPORIUM

GIANT FORM OF CENTIPEDE

Reptiles Found in Trinidad Secrete a Poison Which Enables Them to Paralyze Their Prey.

Trinidad centipedes have been presented to the London zoo, an exchange says. They are more than a foot long, and at the broadest part nearly half an inch across. They are dark brown, with rings on the long feelers and on the legs, a pair of which projects from each flattened segment of the body. These tropical centipedes live in shady places, hidden under bark, stones or dead leaves, moving chiefly at night. They run quickly and can climb vertical surfaces if there is any foothold for their claws. They are entirely carnivorous, living on insects, grubs, small birds or mammals, which they kill with their venom.

It has been shown that the whole of the body of these centipedes secretes a volatile venom, so that even the wounds made by the sharp claws are extremely painful. The under surface of the head carries a formidable pair of poison fangs, the venom of which escapes by a pore in the claw, being formed by large glands at the base of the claws. The venom is an acid opal- escent liquid, hardly miscible with water. When injected into the veins of rabbits it produces instan- taneous paralysis with congestion of the blood; when injected under the skin enormous abscesses are rapidly formed. The bite is very painful to human beings, but it has not been known to be fatal, al- though it causes insomnia, local swelling and occasionally ulcers.

BIG DAY FOR SEMINOLES

Florida Indians Made Holiday of Occasion When Tribe Turned Out to Shoot Fish.

In the old days before statehood, fishing was a great holiday with the Seminoles in Florida. A chief fisherman was selected. He appointed the various committees looking towards the fishing; some to gather the "devil's shoestring," some to do the shooting and some to beat the root after it was tied in bundles.

The "devil's shoestring" grew in abundance in the sand hills of Semi- nole country. The Seminoles dug down deep into the sand until they could get a firm hold on the root and then pulled until it came forth. These roots were then tied into bun- dles of 12 or more, according to the size of the water stream. A board or log was then erected in the pool and the shoestring beaten with little mallets. It gave off a milky kind of coloring into the water, and when this had thoroughly permeated the stream, the fish became intoxicated and would jump out of the water or skim along on their sides.

The shooters would then begin their work with the bow and arrow and, as the large fish came to the surface, they would shoot them with arrows and the younger Indians would pick them out of the stream.

When Chance Befriends.

Inventors have gone a long way towards producing to order what- ever man and his industries require. But invention is not yet an exact science and never is likely to be. Artisans and experimenters con- tinue to stumble upon useful discov- eries. So with Roentgen of X-ray fame. While working over his vacuum tubes he was unexpectedly called out of the room. He left a bulb still glowing on the book he had been reading, and in the book was a large, antique key used as a bookmark, while beneath the vol- ume there happened to be a pho- tographic plateholder he had ready for an outing that afternoon. When developing some plates later, there upon one of them he found the shadow of the key. He sought an explanation of the curious phenom- enon by replacing the "properties" and energizing the tube as before. There was the shadow again on the plate. The X-ray was found.

In the Pines. The stillness of the country, with quiet meadows, white in the moonlight, stretching beyond your garden gate, you hear the ap- proach of the wind as he woos your pine trees to sing with him; for the wind cannot sing alone; he needs a lyre through which to sweep his mightiest and his gentlest songs.

It is not a rustle, as with poplars, but a swift, swishing sound, at first hardly more than the breathing of a child, but rising to a powerful cre- scendo as the logs flutter under the mighty sweep of the wind.

A few moments and the hush fol- lows, that wonderful vanishing point of sound, unattained by the great- est artist. So gentle is the subsiding that you hardly know when the wind left, but the pines are straight and still again, and the wind is a mile away, stirring the hawthorn buds on the hill and flinging out their fragrance into the moonlight.

Later, He Knew Better.

Loren was alone and Edmund five- ome evening mother put them to bed rather early. About nine o'clock she heard a crash, and knew that one of them had fallen out of bed. As she ran upstairs she decided it was probably the younger, but upon en- tering his room she found him sleep- ing soundly. When she reached Loren's room, he was just climbing over the edge of the bed.

"Why, Loren!" she exclaimed, "I thought it was Edmund!"

A sleepy voice answered her, "So'd I, at first!"

Looking to the Future. "I understood your boy is study- ing to be a lawyer."

"I insisted on it," replied Farmer Courtessell. "Josh has got a reck- less disposition, and is liable to need all the lawyers the family can provide, includin' his own self."

WILL PIPE GAS FROM COUNTY WELLS TO CITY

C. M. Sarber of Chanute Will Be As- sociated With P. C. Irwin In Pro- ject—Both Men Summoned To Kan- sas Homes by Good Production News.

P. C. Irwin, Iola, Kansas, oil and gas operator who is the owner of the gas wells northeast of Jack- sonville has been called home by news of a good development on property he owns there.

C. M. Sarber of Chanute, Kan- sas, who has been with Mr. Irwin in the local field for a number of days, has also returned to his home in order to be present when a well is to be drilled in on a lease in which he is interested tomorrow.

Mr. Sarber is a man of large ex- perience in the oil and gas business and is to be associated with Mr. Irwin in piping the gas from the Mor- gan county wells into Jacksonville. "I will be back in Morgan coun- ty in less than two weeks' time," Mr. Irwin said yesterday, "and Mr. Sarber will also return about that time. We will at once begin pre- parations for piping the gas to Jack- sonville." Mr. Sarber who has been a friend of Mr. Irwin for years, came here especially to inspect the gas well and said yesterday that af- ter making a series of tests that he was fully convinced that the wells now drilled will furnish four times as much gas as Jacksonville is now using. However, it is the intention to sink other wells at once, so that a big reserve supply will be avail- able.

Wonderful Wells "I wouldn't believe it about these wells," said Mr. Sarber, "so I inspec- ted them myself, for out in our coun- ty we do not get a heavy pressure until a depth of 1200 feet is reach- ed and here you have these tremen- dous big wells at a depth of about 350 feet."

While the Kansas men talk in a very confident way about the pos- sibilities here, they are both very much interested in the messages that have called them home. Mr. Irwin and one of his partners have the leases to land which adjoins the property described in the following paragraphs, taken from the Iola (Kansas) Register of recent date:

Well Breaks Record

"Colony has heard the mighty roar of gas wells coming in since April, 1921, when the Teton Syndicate drilled in the first five million gasser, it to be followed by the biggest producer in the field, the gas well on the Soy Roberts farm testing nearly twenty-eight mil- lions—the biggest until Saturday, when Long, Graham and associates drilled in their well on the Melville farms, 34, 21, 19, seven miles north and three miles east of Colony. This gigantic producer, one of the biggest ever tapped in southeastern Kansas, brought the tools to the top of the hole, and it was drilled in with a six and a quarter string, and showed on the gauge, before it was shut in a little over thirty mil- lions of gas.

"It is a whooper and when shut in and gunged and allowed to rock up as is the field custom, it will show thirty-five millions or better, and very likely will be the record test for this part of Kansas.

"It is the kind of a well that will pay. It will be hooked up with the Kansas Natural Gas Co., line and if they should take a quarter of it it will net the operators around a thousand dollars a day. Should they only take two percent of the pro- duction it will pay seventy-five dol- lars a day.

"With the great number of rigs at work in southern Anderson coun- ty such results may well be ex- pected. Those operating in the oil areas are only hopeful of such a gigantic strike. Many of the oil wells being drilled show a flush production of 150 barrels but all the operators expect even better results.

"The operators in the field now were the late arrivals who picked up the outlying acreage beyond the pale of the known pay area. And they are the luckiest of the lot. All of which seems to prove that the fol- lowers of geology and the doodle bugs have a lot to learn from the men who have the nerve to go forth and drill."

FAMOUS SPEAKERS AT I. W. C. COMMENCEMENT

Editor of Century Magazine and Bishop Nicholson will be Principal Features of Closing Week. This Year—Schedule of Events is Announced—Alumnae Festivities Combined With Graduation Exercises.

Commencement events of the Illinois Woman's College promise to be of exceptional interest this year. Men of nation wide prominence will take part in the week's program. The Baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by Bishop Thomas Nicholson, the Area Bishop, on June 3. Coming as it does this year toward the close of the Bi-Conference campaign, much more interest than usual will be taken in the closing events. Monday the Board of Trustees will hold their annual meeting, the senior day exercises will be given and the annual concert by the College of Music.

The College takes great pleasure in announcing this year the selection of Glenn Frank, editor of the Century Magazine, who will give the commencement address. Mr. Frank is one of the foremost men in letters in America of the present time. He is a comparatively young man and yet has been prominent in public work for a number of years. He is the author of several books of note.

It has been decided to combine the alumnae celebration with the events of commencement day. Following the conferring of degrees the exercises will merge into the program of the Alumnae Association. There has never been a time in the history of the college when the Alumnae Association was showing as much interest in the commencement program as this year. A reception to the seniors will be immediately followed by the college luncheon. In the afternoon a garden party is planned, at which time stunts from the different administrations and classes will be given. Following that the annual alumnae banquet will be held. At that time our candle-lighting custom will be observed, followed by speeches and reports. From indications between three and four hundred former students and alumnae will participate in the exercises of the day. It is hoped in the evening to have the Dramatic Club plays.

ENDOWMENT FUNDS OF COLLEGE AIDED

Mrs. Sarah G. Riddle Adds $2,000 in Scholarship and Library Funds at Illinois College in Memory of Husband and Brother

Mrs. Sarah G. Riddle, formerly of Chicago and now of Jacksonville, has recently established two memorial Endowment Funds in Illinois college; one is a scholarship fund of $1,000 in memory of her brother, William G. Gallagher of the class of 1862, and the other, a memorial library endowment of $1,000, in memory of her late husband Francis G. Riddle, ex '69.

Joshua Platt Garlick, a surviving member of the class of '62, writes of William G. Gallagher: "He was the most loved member of our class, and deserved to be. In scholarship, he was easily the leader of his class. He was modest without being diffident. He was one of the world's rarest noblemen."

Francis A. Riddle was a second lieutenant in the 25th Illinois Infantry during the Civil War. He also served for a time as State Senator and was chairman of the Illinois Vicksburg Military Park Commission.

In addition to this memorial library fund, Mrs. Riddle has also donated to the college many books from the valuable library of her husband. Many of these books are in very beautiful bindings.

A SONNET ON LIFE
Often have I pondered
On the meaning of this life.
What can be the reason
For this pain and joy and strife?
At times we find life gay,
At others 'tis fraught with sorrow.
We never tell today
What life will be tomorrow!
Why can't we have all joy,
Without a touch of pain?
At last I have an answer,
To me it seems quite plain,
We appreciate our joy more
If it is touched with pain.

Did You See Robin Hood at the Grand Last Week?

Robin Hood you know was the chap who in ye olden tyme so boldly took money away from the rich and gave liberally to the poor.

Many of these sacks of "appropriated" money contained coins imported into England from Germany by the "Esterlings." The silver in these coins was so pure that gradually "Esterling" or "STERLING" as is now commonly known came to be recognized as the standard of purity and value. To possess "Sterling" silver service has been the pride of families for for hundreds of years.

MIGHTY CROWDS PACK SUBWAYS TO ATTEND NEW YORK THEATERS

The "Sardine" Life Led by Playgoers Who Attend the Shows on the Great White Way—Theaters of the Metropolis Seat 95-
000—All Are Crowded Into Small Space

NEW YORK.—The "sardine" life led by playgoers who nightly struggle their way in crowded subways to the Great White Way is graphically described and characterized as "almost alarming" in a report issued by Nelson P.
Lewis, formerly chief engineer of the City Board of Estimate and Apportionment, recently retained to study the problem.

When smiling Broadway managers hang out the "Standing Room Only" sign, as they frequently are doing nowadays, it means not even standing room in the subways,
the report discloses, with sometimes as many as 900 passengers over a capacity load trying to get on every train leaving through each of the five tunnels that lead away from Times Square.

Failure of the city to limit the number of public halls in any given area as is done in London and other old world cities, is blamed by the report for the condition.

"Between 38th and 51st streets
and between Sixth and Eighth avenues," says the report, "there are no less than 78 theaters.
Their combined seating capacity is 95,000. Forty-four of them with a capacity of 56,000, are within a circle having a radius of 1,000 feet from the center of Broadway and 42nd street."

"Assume for a moment that of these 56,000 amusement seekers, 35,000 come from the Times Square station between 8:00 and 8:30. From this station interborough and Brooklyn Rapid Transit
trains run both north and south,
while a shuttle train runs to the Grand Central Station and the east side interborough line. If these 35,000 people were equally distributed between these five routes, it would mean that 7,000
people would have to be accommodated by each. Now if two-

SEN. SEARCY WOULD ERECT BUILDING

Senator from This District Wants
State to Quit Paying Rent—Now Pays Out $230,739 for Office Room for State Department

SPRINGFIELD, April 21.—The state of Illinois is paying out in rentals for offices, warehouses and other buildings more than $230,739 a year, according to estimates of the finance department.

This item of state expense has become so large that an agitation is on foot in the legislature and among state officials for two state-owned office buildings, one in Springfield and one in Chicago.
Senator Earl B. Searcy of Springfield, has introduced a bill calling for an appropriation of $150,000 to construct a five-story office building as an addition to the new Centennial Memorial building directly south of the state capitol in Springfield, while Senator Robert W. Schulze of Chicago, has a bill calling for the erection of a $2,000,000 building in Chicago.

In Chicago alone the rentals paid out yearly by the state total $132,653. Some of the highest rentals for offices in Chicago are for the Appellate court, $39,172;
the Food and Dairies department, $13,500, the free employment offices, $13,000, the industrial commission, $20,400, grain inspection division, $12,840, the Illinois commerce commission and fire prevention offices, $18,900, inheritance tax offices, $15,000.
There are many smaller items of rental for offices in Chicago.

It had been expected that upon completion of the Centennial building here a number of departments now paying rent could move into this building, but the growth of state business has been so rapid that since the building was first planned the expansion has absorbed all the additional space without decreasing the rental item.

Plan Is Outlined

It is planned to move the two state libraries, War Memorial hall and possibly the office of the state superintendent of public instruction from the capital building to the Centennial building.
Only the space left by the War Memorial hall and possibly the superintendent of public instruction offices will be available,
however, as the two libraries are to be appropriated to the use of the legislature. The state national museum, now temporarily quartered in the state arsenal, will have its new home in the Centennial building and together with the two libraries will take up most of the room in that structure.

Numerous offices and one entire three-story building are rented by the state in Springfield.
The three-story building at the corner of Second and Monroe streets, across from the capitol,
is occupied by highway engineers and state poultry division. The division of printing occupies a warehouse in another part of the city. Three floors of the United Mine Workers' building at the corner of Fourth and Monroe streets are occupied by state departments, including the Illinois commerce commission, the state tax commission and the seed inspection department.

The state highway department has several smaller buildings
about the city for laboratories and warehouses. Every nook and corner of the state house itself is occupied. The building which was thought by its builders to be adequate for all time to come and fifty years ago was severely criticized for its spaciousness, today is totally inadequate for the office needs of the state, it is said.

Our serious difficulty resulting from the crowded condition of the state house is the fact that various branches of the same department in some instances are scattered in distant parts of the building, making it difficult for the heads of departments to keep in close touch with their divisions.

RETAIL SALES GOOD—BABSON ADVISES NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

Wellesley Hills, Mass., April 20.
—Roger W. Babson, who has recently been checking figures on the retail trade of the country has today issued a preliminary statement. According to his analysis, retail trade averaging all sections of the country is again back to normal.

"Some sections are still behind
the good years of 1919 and 1920," says Mr. Babson, "but many other sections are ahead. Retail trade was the last to feel the effects of the depression. When a slack business hits a section the financial interests feel it first; the manufacturing and farming interests feel it second; the jobbers and wholesalers feel it third; and finally the retailers hear it. Hence altho retail trade continues good long after Wall Street is blue it does not come back again until sometime after Wall Street comes back. The profits of firms like Tiffany, the jeweler, who sell largely to the very wealthy, follow close to stock market movements; but 95 per cent of the retail firms lag a year or more behind."

"The best retail trade today is in the industrial cities of the east.
Where two years ago, mills and factories were shut down, they are now working overtime. Cities like Pittsburgh, which a year ago were working only 60 per cent of their capacity, are now back to nearly 100 per cent. Akron, which three years ago had the highest percentage of unemployment
in the country, is now advertising for men. Detroit is again back to normal and the volume of retail trade in most of these cities is equal to or greater than it has ever been. Of course, this does not mean that profits are as large. The public is showing more discrimination in its purchases and is shopping about more. The volume of retail business, however, is back to normal in these cities."

"Any concern in an industrial city which is not doing a normal business today should clean house
and ascertain wherein the difficulty lies. Cities which are about to enjoy wage advances are in an especially favorable position. The retailers of these cities should do the best business during 1923 they ever have done. The mill cities of New England are in this class."

"The farming communities may not be back to normal at a satisfying rate, but they are getting normal. If we call normal the few boom years of the war, then the farming sections are still below and may be for many years to come. If, however, we consider normal as the average for the past twenty years and in addition allow a proper amount for growth
we will find that the retail trade
of most farm sections is now back to normal or will be shortly.
Therefore, I say that something is the matter with the retailer who is not now doing a normal business. He either is a poor buyer or a poor salesman. Either he is mixed up in some outside enter-

CHICKS SHOULD BE GOTTEN OUT DOORS

Best for Development and Health
—Other News for Farmers

URBANA.—It is essential for the best development of chicks to get them away from the heat of stove and hover into the outdoors, advises Prof. L. E. Card of the poultry department of the University of Illinois. Many chicks are injured each year because an attempt is made to grow them on a "hot house" plan, according to Prof. Card.

"As soon as the chicks have learned to find their way back to the hover from any part of the house, they should be gotten outdoors," says Prof. Card. "A small run or yard will do at first,
which should be enlarged gradually until the chicks are ten days
old. Two weeks old when they may be taken away entirely and the chicks given free range. The sooner this can be accomplished
the more rapidly are the chicks
likely to grow."

"Even if the weather is cold it is better for chicks to get outdoors than to stay continuously inside. If they have been properly broken they will not suffer
but will run in and out during a large part of the day. Under such conditions they will feather more quickly and hence be able to get along without artificial heat at a younger age than if grown wholly indoors."

If the peach buds have not yet burst their coats, it is not too late to apply winter strength-lime sulphur for leaf curl control. Apply each week for the last year if the blossoms show pink during very wet weather. Do not overlook application of the "pink spray."

Ropy milk is caused by bacteria that grow best at a temperature of about sixty degrees Fahrenheit. This condition, while not dangerous, should be avoided by keeping milk below fifty degrees.
Proper care is urged in sterilizing utensils.

Inoculation of red clover may be worth while in Illinois although the need for such inoculation depends upon local conditions, says the department of

UNIVERSITY WARNS AGAINST CHINCH BUGS

Says This Will Be the Most Destructive on the Part of These Pests of Any Previous Year in Central Illinois

URBANA.—Warning that this year would be the most destructive on the part of chinch bugs
of any year throughout central Illinois, was contained in a statement today from the natural history survey of the University of Illinois.

"The weather of the winter has been very favorable for burning
the chinch bug in its winter quarters," the statement said, "and as a result but seven per cent of the bugs that went into winter quarters last Fall have been killed up to the present time.
Chinch bugs resistant, notably Champion White Pearl (or Democrat), Blackhawk and Golden Beauty.

"The winter, however, has not been unfavorable for the bugs,
and current indications are that it would be very destructive this year throughout central Illinois.
For this reason it probably will be advisable to plant a part of the corn acreage in this section of the state to the chinch bug resistant strains of corn."

"Investigations conducted by the department of agronomy and the natural history survey during the last five years have shown
three varieties of corn markedly resistant to chinch bugs—Champion White Pearl, Black Hawk and Golden Beauty.

"The results of these experiments show conclusively that the three varieties of corn mentioned will give fair yields under heavy infestation by second-brood chinch bugs, and under these conditions will outyield such varieties as Reid's Yellow Dent, Iowa Silverline and Boone County White. Where no chinch-bugs are present, resistant varieties
will yield within a few bushels
of the varieties more generally grown in the central part of the state."

"The results of these experiments and information regarding the adaptability of the resistant corns to central Illinois conditions
now are being compiled into bulletin form for distribution by the agricultural experiment station to growers in this section who will have this problem to contend with."

SEEKS METHOD TO INCREASE HEIGHT OF STUNTED CHILDREN

Cleveland.—Search for some means to make small, stunted boys and girls taller, as well as comprehensive attempt to classify children for the work to which they are physically and mentally suited, is now being made by the board of education of this city.
A few of the questions which the investigation under the direction of Dr. Bird T. Baldwin, psychologist of the University of Iowa, is expected to answer are:
At what age do children attain their complete physical growth?
What is the effect of physical condition upon intelligence?
If a child's weight can be increased by diet, what can be done
to increase his stature?

Every child in the five schools,
a total of 3500, is to be examined thoroughly, both physically and mentally. The physical examinations are already under way under direction of Dr. L. W. Childs, director of school health work in Cleveland, with school physicians, nurses and dentists co-operating.
This investigation will be followed by a health campaign to eliminate physical defects.

SEEK ANNALS IN UR OF MEN WHO LIVED 10,000 YEARS AGO

Americans and British Excavating the Tomb
of the Moon God in That Ancient City Have Begun to Search for the Records
of Abraham—May Tell a New Story

LONDON.—American and British archaeologists engaged in excavating the Tomb of the Moon God in the ancient city of Ur of the Chaldees have begun the search for the records of Abraham, says an airplane dispatch from the Bagdad correspondent of the London Daily Mail.
The excavators, says the correspondent, hope to recover
the world's first and oldest library of original works on history, religion, art, law, science, and the narratives of the affairs of men 5,000 and perhaps 10,000 years ago.
When the work of the expedition is done, he adds, it may yield a wholly new story of the inception of the religious movement that prepared the world for Christianity, or it may corroborate the story in Genesis.

Describing his visit to Ur, the correspondent says that it is probably to this 6,000 year old city that the world owes the development of cities, great irrigation schemes, gardens, water supply,
the use of lead and asphalt, drainage and fortress building. "Brick,"
he writes, "were made in Ur earlier than in Egypt. Here the arch was invented and the vault systematically used in monumental structures, and it was in Mesopotamia that the dome became prominent. Forty centuries before Christ Ur was a great city in the midst of cultivation. Even now the line of silted-in canals
can be seen stretching away to the far horizon."

"For more than 2,500 years,"
the correspondent proceeds, "since Darius and his Persian hordes swept over the land, Ur has been deserted except for Bedouins, that the ruins of a vast city which was once trod by Abraham are there is definitely known. Only tentative exploring shafts have been sunk here and there over the wide expanse, but each has yielded relics of a lost people, the Sumerians. It is now known that after Abraham left Ur there came a long period of difficulties. The impending collapse of the dynasty
was probably the reason for his departure."

"It has been discovered that after destroying the city the conquerors laid pavements over the principal buildings. The tablets, buried in the arches beneath each set of pavements, tell the intimates stories of the daily lives of the kings and leaders, merchants, property owners and slaves. Tablets found at Ur show that legal transactions, including marriage contracts, sales and tenancies, were witnessed by six persons. It is expected to find the record of property sold by Abraham before leaving Ur."

"Records obtained so far show that the Sumerians were nearly extinct in Abraham's time, so that the records are earlier than the Nippur collection. The intentions of the American and British experts are to excavate to the first record of occupancy at Ur. Among the finds are tiny leaves of gold which, according to the records,
were set upon the lips of the dead; a mannikin of three feet, clad in a sheepskin with tail hanging down, made of some hard,
green stone, and hoofs and axes,
wrought in stone which were placed on the altar of the Moon God
as emblems of industry."

Energize Your Feet in Cantilevers

Can you swing along the street at a rapid gait, move swiftly about your work in home or office, or take a long hike with a feeling of joyous freedom, with no sense of foot weariness at the end of the day?

If so, you know what we mean when we say "Energize Your Feet in Cantilevers." You know that it can be done. That Cantilever Shoes allow the feet to grow strong, supple and healthy because the muscles can exercise naturally in walking instead of being restricted in stiff, board-like shanks such as ordinary shoes have.

Weak feet and fallen arches with their attendant pain and fatigue are unnecessary and can be avoided by wearing Cantilevers. Try them for yourself at once and learn the joy of possessing feet that are not lacking in energy.

COLLEGE PRESIDENTS AND THEIR ORIGIN

Board of Education of Methodist Church Gives Interesting Facts—Pays Compliment to Dr. Harker

The board of education of the Methodist church recently issued an interesting article discussing the subject "Where College Presidents Come From." This article, which mentions that Ohio has furnished a large percentage of the 36 heads of Methodist colleges and universities, pays tribute to Dr. Harker of this city and is forced by the facts in the case to credit him to England. The whole subject is discussed in the following paragraphs: Georges Clemenceau's laughter attributes her father's good health since his visit to this country to "something we have in our air." She declares that never did he feel or act younger than when breathing our atmosphere. If there is an exhilarating bracer in American air, Ohio can claim an ozone of particular merit. That state has long been known as the favorite birthplace of presidents, statesmen and religious leaders. It furnished James A. Garfield, Ulysses S. Grant, Rutherford B. Hayes, Benjamin Harrison, William McKinley, William H. Taft and Warren G. Harding, and has since added to this presidential list, seven out of thirty-six executives of Methodist colleges and universities. They are, Wallace B. Fleming, Baker University; Lemuel H. Murfin, Boston University; William H. McMaster, Mount Union College; John L. Hillman, Simpson College; Carl G. Doney, Williamette University; Alfred F. Hughes, Evansville College; and Albert E. Smith of Ohio Northern University.

Illinois and Iowa tie for second honors with five illustrious sons each. The prairie state acclaims Otto E. Kriege, Central Wesleyan College; Tully C. Knoles, College of the Pacific; Walter Dill Scott, Northwestern University; Rufus B. von Kleinsmid, University of Southern California; and Arlo Ayres Brown of the University of Chattanooga. With equal pride Iowa points to Isaac B. Schreckengast, Nebraska Wesleyan University; E. H. Todd, College of Puget Sound; Harlan Updegraff, Cornell College; Ulysses S. Smith, Iowa Wesleyan College; and Frank E. Mossman, Morningside College. Michigan, New York, Wisconsin and West Virginia run third in presidential offerings with two candidates each. Samuel Plantz of Lawrence College and E. G. Green of Oklahoma City College are New Yorkers; George R. Grose, DePaul University and L. B. Bowers, Kansas Wesleyan University preferred the climate of West Virginia while Albert B. Storms of Baldwin-Wallace College and Clarence W. Greene, Heddings College braved the inclemencies of the Great Lakes region and chose Michigan. E. P. Robertson of Wesley College and E. D. Kohlstedt, Dakota Wesleyan University, were Wisconsin neighbors. Canada generously contributed Samuel P. Kerfoot for Hamline University and Chancellor Charles W. Flint of Syracuse University. England scores equally heavy with Herber R. Harper, Chancellor, the University of Denver and Joseph R. Harker, that loyal veteran schoolmaster of Illinois Woman's College. The following states had to be content with one presidential son each: Indiana, Fred W. Hixson, Alleghen College; Washington, Charles W. Tenny, Golding College; Minnesota, Charles M. Donaldson, Montana Wesleyan College; Delaware, James H. Morgan, Dickinson College; Tennessee, William W. Guth, Goucher College; Pennsylvania, James W. Hoffman, Ohio Wesleyan University and one lone Kansan, Albert E. Kirk, Southwestern College.

Of these thirty-six college presidents, the youngest at the time of becoming president was Frank E. Mossman who was thirty-one when he accepted the presidency of Southwestern College. After thirteen years he transferred to Morningside College where he has maintained a splendid record of achievement. Bishop William F. McDowell can claim the honor of being the youngest Chancellor of the University of Denver, being only thirty-two when he assumed that post. His nearest rival is the present Chancellor, Herber R. Harper who was thirty-seven when he was inaugurated last year. The average age of these thirty-six presidents is forty-two years, which means, if it means anything at all that if your son has not become a college president by the time he has reached this age, he doesn't stand a very great chance of ever doing so. If, however, he has reached this age of discretion, he may think twice before accepting such an exacting job.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES

The death of Janette Wallace of the class of 1923 has brought sorrow to the hearts of every one connected with the college. At the time Miss Wallace became ill she was student president and had been most active in the work of the Young Woman's Christian Association. The Students' Association, her society, and the college as an organization, will all be represented officially at the funeral which will be held at her home in Canton, Ill., Sunday afternoon.

Word has just been received of the marriage of Hope Kenyon of the class of 1920, to Edwin Tomlin of Mechanicsburg. The ceremony occurred Friday at the home of Miss Kenyon in Athens, Ill.

Dr. and Mrs. Harker returned Thursday evening after a brief trip in the southern states.

Miss Miriam McOmber left Friday evening to attend a meeting of the Kansas City society. At this meeting she will be one of the speakers and will read a brief message from President Harker. The Kansas City society is in excellent condition and has been especially active.

Miss Esther Davis returned from Springfield Friday afternoon. While in Springfield she did some work for the Alumnae Association and interested a number more of the graduates in the new alumnae and former student directory. The new alumnae and former student directory has just been received; it has been very interesting to note the progress which has been made in selling this publication. An unusually fine record in securing subscriptions to the directory has been made. Up to and including Saturday morning 484 subscriptions have been received and recorded. The usual percentage of subscriptions to college publications of this character has already been exceeded and it is confidently expected that the entire issue of one thousand copies will be disposed of by commencement time.

Richard Vernor of the Fire Prevention Department gave a most interesting talk to the students and faculty on Thursday evening on ways of preventing fire. Mr. Vernor had two reels of moving pictures which illustrated his lecture.

The Phi Nu society are having their rooms redecorated getting ready for the reunion during the commencement week.

The Belles Lettres Society will give a play in Music Hall Saturday evening. "Astrea", a daughter of the Gods, is written by Audrey King and the cast includes the members of the Belles Lettres Society. The part of Astrea is taken by Mary Jewell. The part of the Prince by Audrey King and the part of the Princess by Charlotte Rodgers. The scene is in a forest glade made brilliant by courtiers and kings. The proceeds from the play will go the general endowment fund now being raised.

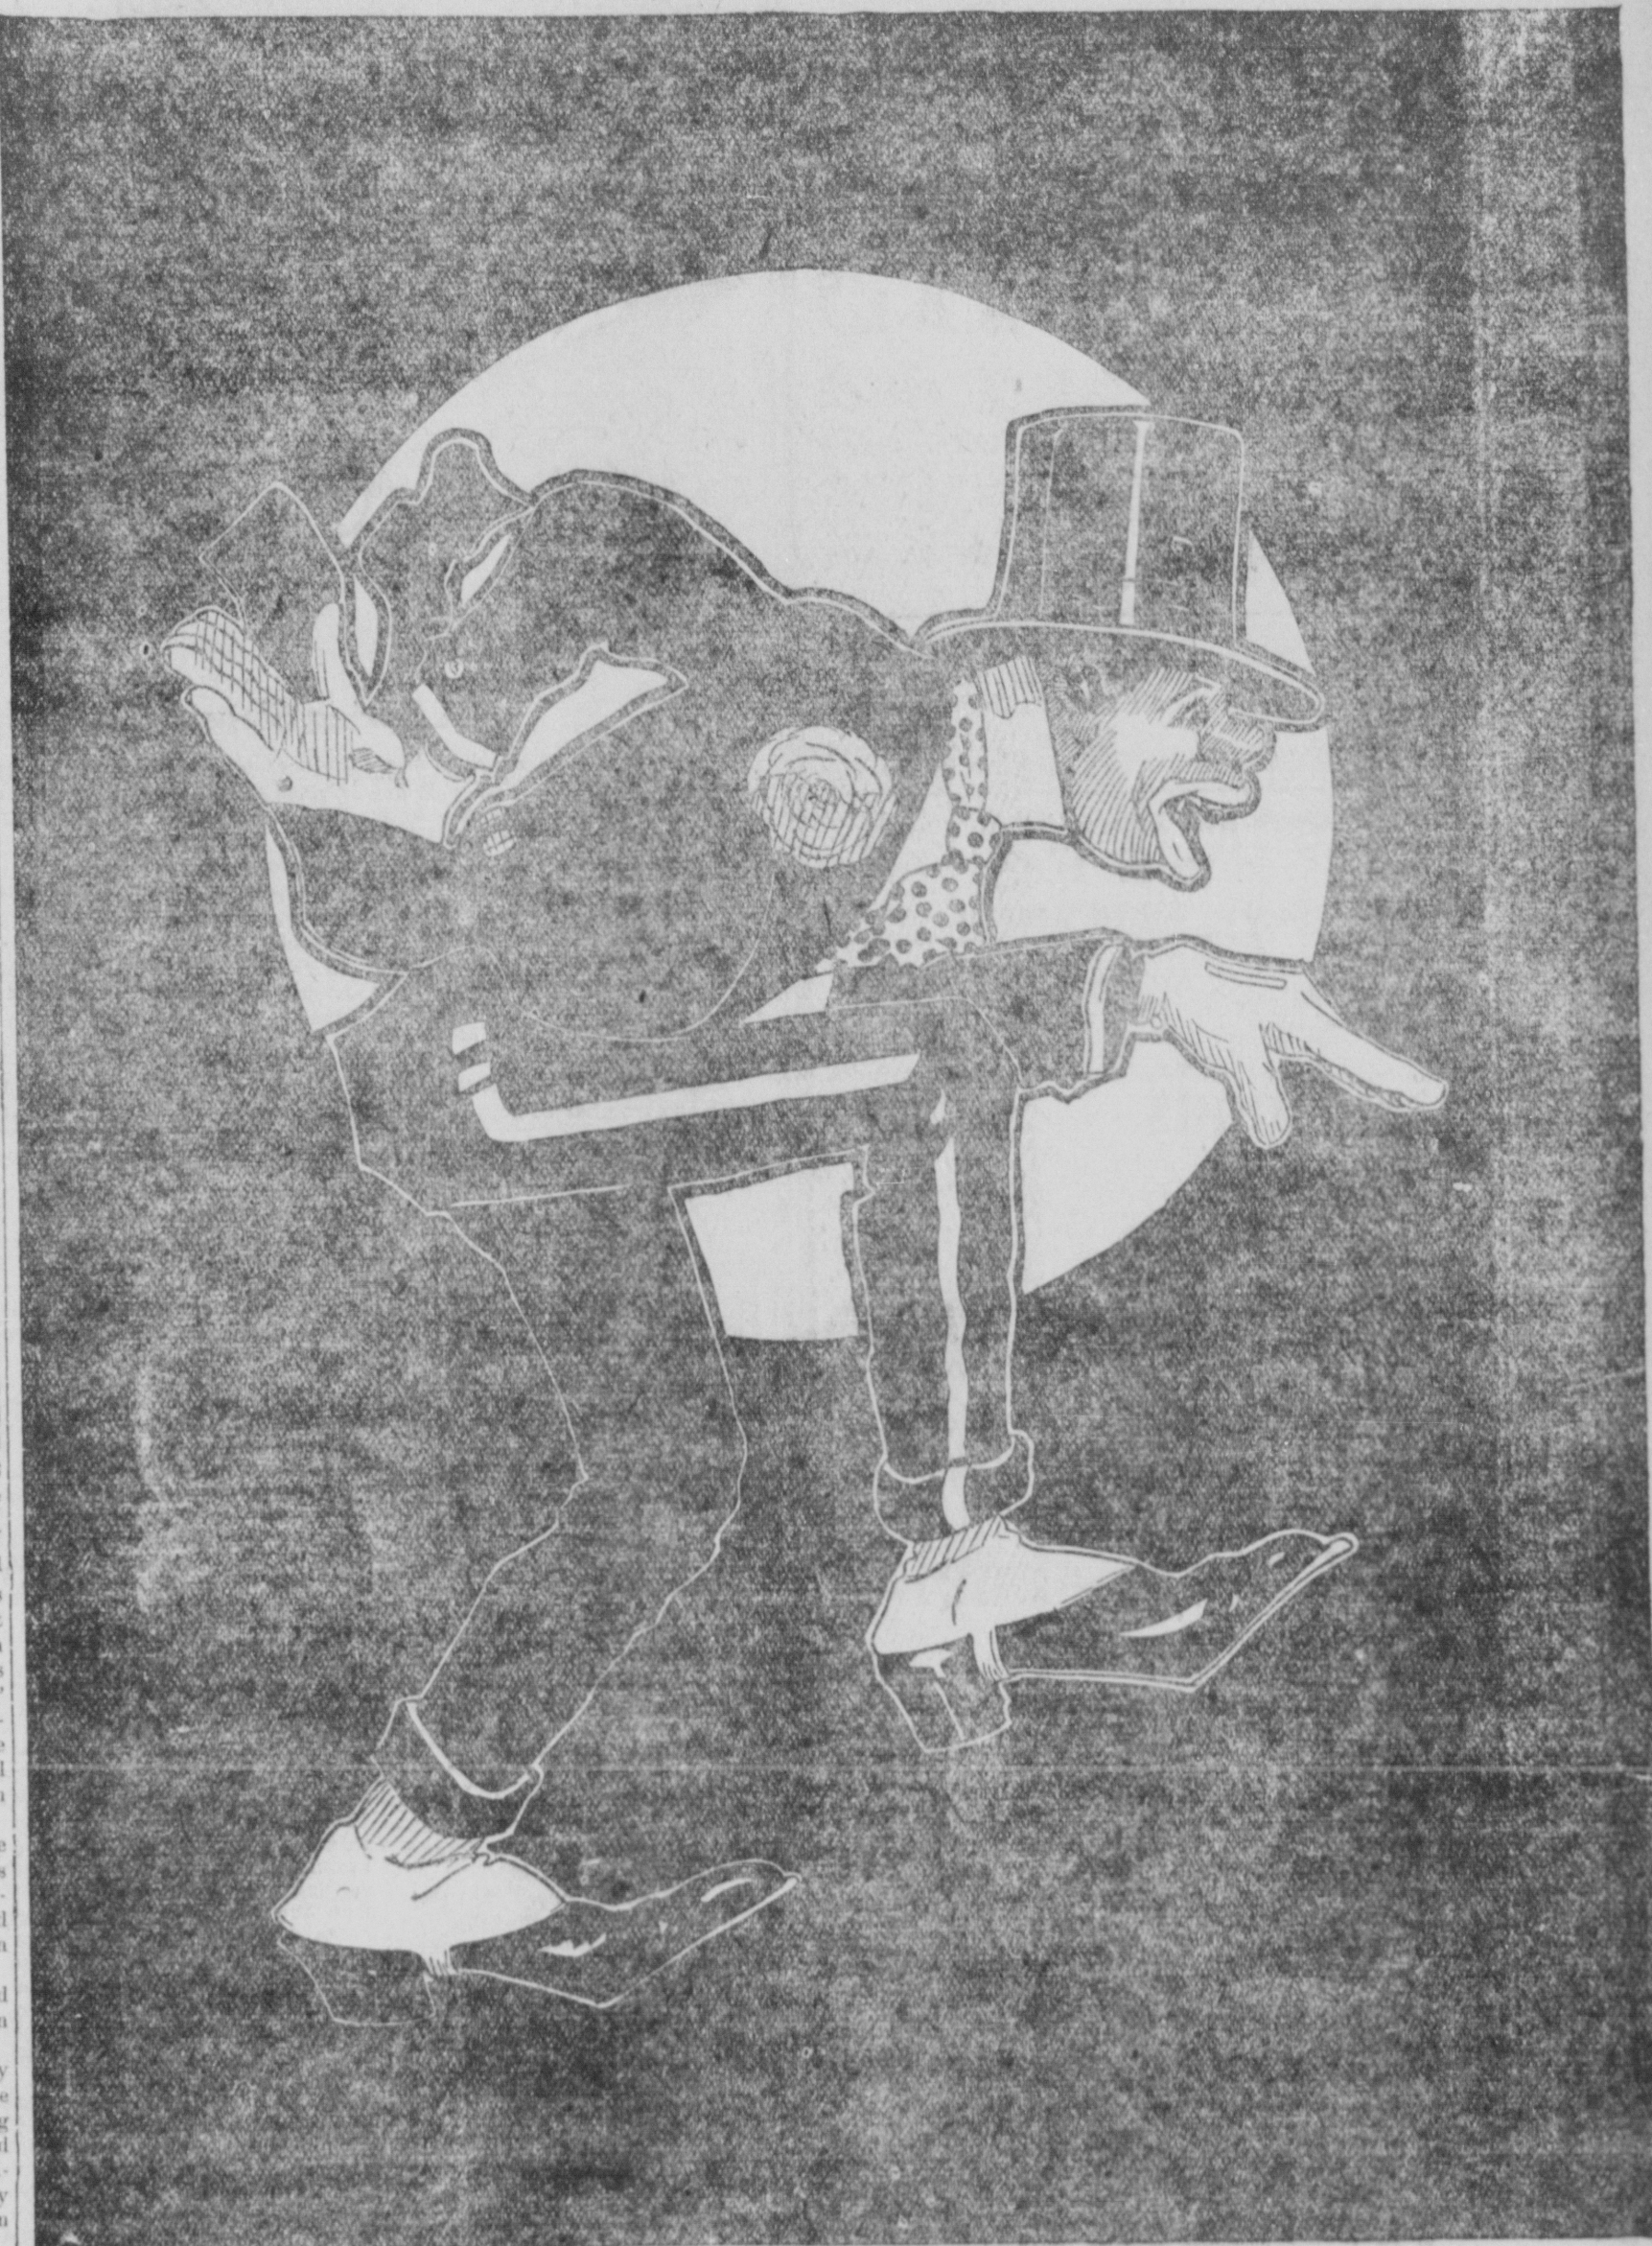

I desire to ascertain the address of Miss Lucy D. Hand; she was my stenographer in 1907 in Jacksonville, Ill. Please call phone 1523.

The Fun Maker

Real Fun for Every One

A Spring Slogan: "Swat the Horse"

(Play experts from all over North America send in their newest ideas to THE FUN MAKER. Regular readers of THE FUN MAKER will learn about all sorts of games and stunts just as soon as they are invented.)

"If you haven't played 'Swat,'" says George Stephenson, of the Chicago Council of Boy Scouts, "you've been missing a lot of fun. Every time I tell a group of boys about it they take it on as one of their favorite games."

"Swat" is a new kind of tag game which any number of boys can play, indoors or outside. Two players are chosen to be "it." One of these boys gets down on his hands and knees. He is the horse. The other boy mounts the horse's back.

The rest of the players try to swat the horse without being tagged by the rider. Should one of the players be tagged while hitting the horse he has to change places with the steed.

Rider May Dismount

The rider may dismount from his horse to tag the swatters, but he must stay near enough so that he is touching the horse when he tags; otherwise, the tag doesn't count. It is no easy job to protect the horse, and the rider must be on the alert every second to prevent any one who touches his horse from getting away untagged.

If the horse is swatted and the swatter gets away, the successful one becomes the rider, and takes his turn in defending the unfortunate horse.

(Next week The Fun Maker will describe a marble contest.)

Why Hudson Owners Buy Hudsons Again and Again

Most Hudson owners remain Hudson owners. They find nothing to tempt them elsewhere. Some have owned five, ten, sixteen successive Hudsons.

They have found each succeeding Hudson a better, smoother, finer car.

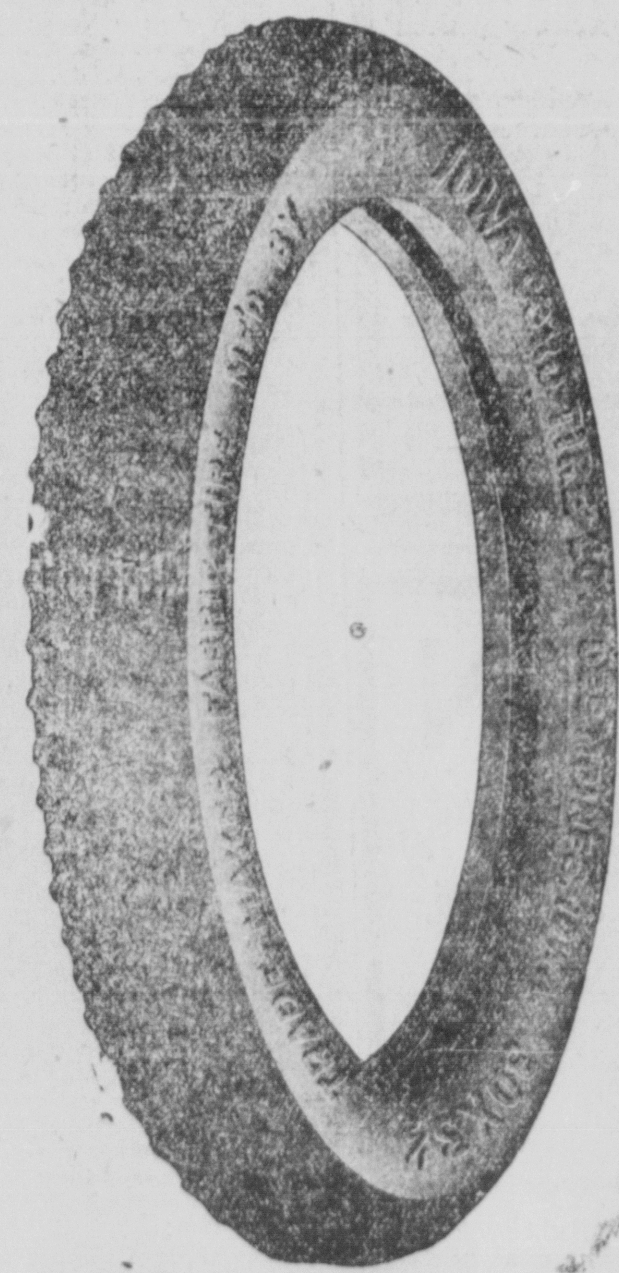

Those who drive today's Super-Six call it the greatest Hudson ever built—its price makes it conspicuous not only among cars of comparable fineness, but even among those that you never classify with Hudson in quality.

How Long Should a Pair of Glasses Last?

No arbitrary rule of time can be fixed for changing lenses.

The action of nature itself only determines that.

Under certain conditions lenses have to be changed very frequently over a period of time. With others lenses may have to be changed once a year.

Wearing lenses beyond their period of usefulness puts the eyes under the same handicap as before the lenses were put in.

Regular eye examinations once a year are wise precautions.

Diamond Grove Memorial Mausoleum

For the consideration of those of Jacksonville and the country surrounding it who favor the better way, a very much enlarged and far more elaborate plan of building is being offered. Beside having more than double the corridor space of the original drawing, incorporated in it are several very wonderful Family Rooms, each of which is provided with its individual stained art glass window, which mellows the light and provides reflections of rose and gold and varied colors upon the beautifully polished marble of the walls. Absolute privacy is assured the owner of a room by a gate of craft bronze, which only the key of the owner can unbolt. Within, the expanses of marble walls are delightfully varied with touches of chaste and judicious ornament. Many of the little details of borders, garlands, pediments and cornices afford opportunity for the study of worthy bits of classic decoration.

The Family Rooms are but few in number and afford to those who desire an expression of their own individuality in themaking, that opportunity which rarely is the privilege of the purchaser. Furthermore, the first cost is the last cost, because it includes that amount necessary to maintenance and upkeep forever. The modest elegance, the quiet, the dignity of them, befits them for those who like the better things.

Telephone Talk No. 14

"Telephone Operators Have Rush Periods, As Others Do Who Serve the Public."

The telephone company has rush periods just as have the street cars, the stores, the banks and the stamp window in the post office.

A man will wait in line patiently several minutes to make a deposit in a bank, to buy postage stamps, register a letter, buy a railroad ticket or a seat in the theatre and make no complaint. But if occasionally he has to wait twenty seconds for a telephone operator he feels greatly misused and condemns the service unsparringly.

Let us put a frank question or two to oneself:

"Does any other company or store in town wait on me with such uniform promptness, or cause me so little direct loss of time, as does the Telephone Company?"

"Can I get the service of a street car, a clerk, a salesgirl, a cashier, or of anyone else nearly as quickly, whenever I want it, as I can that of a Telephone Operator?"

"When I push the buzzer on my desk for the stenographer or the messenger, do they always come immediately?"

Evans Will Be Back For Local Match

Will Return from Overseas Trip in Latter Part of May—Many Matches in Sight for Jack Keywood, Local Pro.

"Chick" Evans who is going abroad as member of the American team will return from England in plenty of time to play his exhibition match with Bob McDonald in this city on June 3rd. The Municipal Golf Club has just been notified by Robert McKinnon, president of the Cook County Golf association, who will come to Jacksonville with Evans and McDonald for this match, that "Chick" will be back in plenty of time for a match here.

The Municipal Golf club failed to connect with Eddie Held, the United States Municipal Golf Champion of St. Louis, but in his place secured Bob McDonald, the longest driver in the world as a mate for "Chick" Evans. This places still keener interest in the June 3rd exhibition on account of the fact that the two men scheduled to play here are considered the world's greatest amateur and professional player. A number of letters have been received from neighboring clubs inquiring details and requesting admission tickets. The local committee is expecting to work out details of this match in the next week or ten days. Several local fans have been anxious to match Jack Keywood, local professional, and Knight, Springfield, Ill., with the two visitors.

Final Preparations Made The local greens committee of which T. A. Chapin is chairman made final preparation for opening of course yesterday. A tour of inspection enabled the committee to make suggestions for final plans, for any minor improvements or changes to be made before the opening. The committee located the new No. 1 hole which will be put into play about the time the new swimming pool at the park opens. The old hole will be vacated owing to the large number of people who will cross the course taking advantage of the swimming pool. The new hole which the committee laid out yesterday will be 240 yards in length and will start from a point immediately north of the swimming pool. The committee considers this even a more favorable location than the old hole. A temporary sand green will be installed here and in August work will be begun upon a permanent green. These changes were O. K'd by Supt. J. H. Hopper of the Park Board and will be carried out as soon as possible.

The sale of season tickets are still going on at a lively rate. This committee in charge of Fred Randall has disposed of 150 tickets at present time, and have as their goal the sale for 40 more tickets, bringing the total to 200. If this goal can be reached, it is almost an assured fact that the club will be able to lease additional acreage for next season and extend the local course to 15 holes.

John A. Lang, professional instructor at Robinson, Ill., is in correspondence with the local committee for a match with Mr. Keywood on or about June 17th. Allan Wayman, a professional at Quincy, will also be booked for an exhibition here with Jack Keywood during July.

ENKE RESIGNS AS SOUTH DAKOTA COACH Brookings S. D. April 21.—Fred Enke, who started at the University of Minnesota basketball and football teams in 1918, 1919 and 1920, has resigned his position as assistant coach at South Dakota State College to accept a position of athletic director at the University of Louisville, Ky., it was announced today.

George Keyne was a business visitor from Murrayville Saturday.

Billy Evans Says

"What is the most important shot in golf?"

Recently I put that question to Jack Hutchinson.

"That question is asked me more often than any other," he replied.

"If one aspires to play between 70 and 80, every shot is important. The slightest slip in any department of play will give the score card a black eye.

"I would say that a player must first perfect his driving if he is to get anywhere with his game. By driving I do not mean for distance, rather I have in mind accuracy.

"The desire to drive for distance is a fault that handicaps golfers. Distance is not everything, accurate driving, that does not result in such a long ball, is far more important. I would say that accurate driving was the most important feature of golf play.

"A well placed shot from the tee enables the player to put his second shot on the green, which is greatly desired by every player. Getting on the green in two offers great possibilities.

"It strikes me that a second shot that gets you on the green must be considered more important than the approach putt or mashie-niblick putt.

"To a great many beginners the pitch over a brook or a trap or bunker is a nightmare. In reality it is an easy shot. If the player would just think so. It is the hazard that is uppermost in the mind of the player, which makes the shot hard to accomplish. If the brook or trap wasn't there the player would make the shot in a matter of fact manner and do it perfectly. Such hazards never bother the skilled player.

"A short putt to win a match with much at stake is far more difficult to the pro player than the pitch over the hazard."

Greatest of All Amateur Golfers to be Here June 3

Charles (Chick) Evans

Charles (Chick) Evans, of Chicago, the greatest of all amateur golfers, living or dead, was born in Indianapolis, Ind., July 18, 1890. In speaking of his boyhood days he states his parents moved from Indianapolis, Ind., to Chicago, Mr. Evans, Sr., was a librarian by profession, having charge of Newberry library, the Virginia library and the Chicago Historical society, all of Chicago.

His mother was interested in books and all manner of educational things, and it might have been expected that young Chick would have been a writer or a lawyer, but Chick was fond of games and a born athlete, and played outdoor games from boyhood up.

Chick Evans is a graduate of Northwestern university of Chicago. He began his golf career as a caddy at the Old Edgewater club at Chicago in 1918. His first practice was with a club that some one had discarded with tomato cans sunk in the ground for holes.

His wonderful record in golf is known all over the world, he being the only man to win in one year the national amateur and the national championship. This he did in 1920. Chick's score in the national open championship which he won was the lowest score ever made being 266 strokes for 72 holes, or an average of 71 1/2 for 4 rounds.

Chick holds a great record in the Western amateur championship, having won the big event seven times straight. Evans has played on more golf courses in the U. S. and abroad than any living man in the game, and his record shows that he is the equal of any professional.

He is an authority on all things pertaining to golfing matters, having written books and numerous articles on the subject.

Chick has devoted a great deal of time the last few years to all matters pertaining to public golf in Chicago, and other cities, his latest being the Chick Evans Golf Records. These records were made by Evans for the Brunswick-Balke Cullender Co. of New York. They are called "Chick Evans' Golf Secrets" and are sold without profit to Evans or the Brunswick Co., the entire proceeds except actual cost to be devoted to the Chick Evans National Caddy championship fund, under the auspices of the Western Golf association. This fund is created so that caddies of merit can attend golf tournaments with their expenses paid from the fund.

French Sportsman Names Three Cars

Enters Bugatti Cars in Great Indianapolis Speedway Event on May 30—Was Aviator During World War

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—The first entries from France for the International 500-mile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway have arrived with Pierre de Vizcaya, wealthy French sportsman naming three Bugatti cars for the Hoosier event.

The announcement of the entry of the Bugattis followed closely on the heels of the information that the company making the German Mercedes cars had signified its intention of starting three mounts in the historic five century grind.

Bugatti cars are practically unknown in America, although on two occasions they have been driven at Indianapolis. However, the Bugatti team has been showing its tires to contenders in European racing events, for the past two years with no little success.

Pierre de Vizcaya, who entered the cars and who will head the Bugatti team is twenty-nine years old and has been driving racing cars since 1913 when he began participation in amateur hill climbing contests. Along with being a consistent racing pilot, Pierre is a champion tennis player, holds the fencing championship of Alsace-Lorraine and is an excellent sprinter.

During the war he was first an infantryman and then an aviator. Released at the armistice, De Vizcaya, enthusiastically jumped into automobile racing. At Le Mans he took part in the 1920 light car road race and was leading in his Bugatti when, in the excitement of the pits, Ettore Bugatti, designer and builder of the French racing cars, began to unscrew the radiator cap of the car.

With great severity, the French Referee ruled the car out of the race because of the technical ruling barring anyone but pilot or mechanic from working on the car during the course of the race.

In 1921 De Vizcaya raced successfully at Brescia, Italy, and took part in the 200-mile race on Brooklands track in England. The Brooklands course is practically a duplicate of the Indianapolis two and one-half mile brick oval and the little Frenchman showed to his best advantage on the British speedway. It was then that he made up his mind to compete in the Indianapolis race this year.

Last year he finished fourth in the Isle of Man race, was second behind Felice Nazzari in the French Grand Prix at Strasbourg and after a magnificent display of driving finished third at Bordino and Nazzari in the 500-mile race on the Monza track, Italy.

He has never before been to America.

Mrs. Frank Murgatroyd and Mrs. Elmer McNeil, who have been visiting at the home of Mrs. of Mrs. Frank Coffman, 223 Hardin avenue, have returned to their homes in Browning, Illinois.

REDS BOMBARD PIRATE PITCHERS

CINCINNATI, O., April 21.—The Reds knocked Cooper off the rubber in the first inning today and continued their heavy attack at the expense of three other pitchers, winning easily 12 to 6. Donohue let down with a safe lead and was rather hard hit toward the finish.

Umpire Paul Scutelle is threatened with appendicitis and will probably have to undergo an operation.

The veteran, Bob Emslie took his place, working on the bases. Pittsburgh 001 100 301—6 12 3 Cincinnati 440 102 100—12 17 2 Hamilton, Carlson, Kuntz, Cooper and Schmidt; Donohue and Hargrave.

IOWA DEFEATS CHICAGO U. 13-2

IOWA CITY, Iowa, April 21.—Opposition hitting gave Iowa a Big Ten victory over Chicago University today, 13 to 2. The Maroons hit Duham hard but he received fine support. Three pitchers issued ten bases on balls.

TILDEN MEETS DEFEAT IN DOUBLES

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 21.—William T. Tilden II, National Tennis champion met defeat today at the dedication of the new courts at Germantown Academy his Alma Mater. Vincent Richards, Yonkers, N. Y., holder of the National Doubles crown with Tilden was paired with Carl Fischer, Philadelphia, middlestate champion. They won from Tilden and Wallace F. Johnson, Philadelphia 4-6, 6-1, 9-7.

Mrs. Mollie Burstedt Mallory making her first appearance on an American court since her return from abroad, easily defeated Mrs. Molly Thayer, Philadelphia, 6-1, 6-3.

R. Norris, Williams, Philadelphia and Watson Washburn, New York, defeated Jose and Manuel Alonzo, the Spanish players, now residents on Bethlehem, Pa., 7-5, 6-1.

Richards and Fischer played two sets against Williams and Washburn, winning the first 7-5, and losing the second 5-7.

Tilden defeated Manuel Alonzo 6-4, 6-4.

STARS WHO WILL COMPETE IN DRAKE UNIVERSITY MEET

Here you have pictures of some of the star university athletes who will furnish thrills for thousands of track and field fans who will witness the 14th annual Drake University relay meet at Des Moines, April 27-28.

De Hart Hubbard, Michigan's dandy flash, is a versatile athlete showing great form in the dashes, the broad jump, the high jump and the hurdles. Coach Steve Farrell, of Michigan predicts, that Hubbard will establish a new intercollegiate broad jump record before the season is over. Sam Orcabaugh, Drake hurdler, is another all around athlete, and in addition to his track work he was quarterback of the championship Drake football squad last fall, and a member of Coach Solomon's basketball squad, which finished third in the Missouri Valley race just closed.

Krogh, Chicago miler, is shown delivering the baton to a teammate. He is a star performer in this middle distance event, winning the mile at the recent western conference indoor meet.

FIELDING FEATS FAIL TO THRILL LIKE BATTING

(By NEA Service)

CHICAGO.—A record of more than passing mention was made in the American League last year that went practically unnoticed.

Batting feats caught the eye in the 1922 campaign. The fans were curious as to who would be the home-run king, would Ruth overcome the big handicap imposed on him, would Cobb catch Sisler and could Rogers Hornsby again show the way in the National?

With all this excitement over the batting end of the game it is not to be wondered that the fielding stunts failed to cause any great thrills.

Once upon a time triple plays were a rarity, but like home runs they were a bit common last season.

Seven triple plays were made in the American League. This bit of par excellence in fielding, ties the National League in that respect.

In 1910 the National League set a record at seven triple plays for a season. Twelve years later the American League equals it.

Kansas U. Athletes Star In Own Meet

Win Quarter and Half Mile Relays—Heavy Track and Cold Weather Bar Against Fast Time

LAWRENCE, Kan., April 21.—The University of Kansas athletes starred in their own meet—the first annual University of Kansas relay games here today. The Kansas runners won two of the university relay races, the quarter mile relay and the half mile relay and in each instance the win was due to Raymond Fisher, Kansas anchor. Butler College, Indianapolis, Ind., won two of the relays in the college class—the half mile and the one mile stepping across the finish line with a good margin.

In the individual events, Kansas won, scoring 16½ points. Haskell Institute was second with 13½ points and the Kansas Aggies were third with 13 points.

A heavy track due to an all day rain yesterday and a cold breeze from the southwest worked to the disadvantage of fast time. Only one race was unusually fast. This was the quarter mile relay won by Kansas in 43 seconds flat, just a fifth of a second slower than the world's record for the event.

The Cedar Rapids, Iowa, high school aggregation which established two world's interscholastic records at the Penn games in 1921, won two firsts and a second in relays. Cedar Rapids won the two mile and the one mile and placed second in the high school medley relay.

St. John's Military Academy,

military mile relay, first in the medley race and second in the half mile relay.

Fisher, the Kansas sprint flash, was the individual star of the meet bringing the spectators to their feet twice during the meet when he overcame a big lead to cross the line ahead with the Kansas colors when it seemed that they were hopelessly behind. In the half mile university relay Fisher overcame a ten yard lead by Noble of Nebraska and won by another yard. In the quarter mile relay Fisher overcame Noble's lead of about five feet and won by two feet in the space of 110 yards.

NORTHWESTERN DEFEATS INDIANA

Bloomington, Ind., April 21.—Northwestern defeated Indiana in a dual track meet 734 to 533 on a heavy field here today. The purple won eight firsts and all second places to Indiana's six firsts and two seconds.

Championship Bout With Kilbane Johnny Dundee's Greatest Ambition

By MAURICE HENLE NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK.—Johnny Dundee still has at least one pugilistic ambition left. To meet Johnny Kilbane for the featherweight championship. Dundee thinks Kilbane is not exactly giving him a square deal by refusing him a match.

"I fought Kilbane 10 years ago out in California to a draw," Dundee said. "At that time, and later, even a year ago when I saw him in Cleveland, he promised he would give me a crack at the crown. But he hasn't."

Regards Kilbane Highly Dundee does not go about telling people he would knock Kilbane into a cocked hat if they ever got into a ring. Far from it.

"Johnny's pretty good still, don't forget it," Dundee said. "He is only a few years older than I, and I'm 29 years old."

"There's another thing," the sturdy veteran continued. "I would have to take off about 15 pounds as I am today to meet him. Surely I would offset the advantage of years by doing this."

Muldoon His Booster He doesn't feel any too confident that the attitude of the New York boxing authorities will guarantee him a fight. And especially the latest move, taking away Chairman Muldoon's arbitrary powers, isn't any too encouraging for the little scrapper.

Muldoon had said that Kilbane must box Dundee first to fight in New York state. But now it looks as though Kilbane and Criqui will be able to get together this summer, thus again ignoring the man the public feels is entitled to a jab at the title.

Dundee is overweight at this time.

When not going through rigid training he takes on weight rapidly, he said.

Money Doesn't Matter No matter what topic of conversation one gets Dundee talking about, he always shifts around to the Kilbane match. It fairly absorbs him.

"He claims I wouldn't offer him enough money. That's the bunk, I have made many good offers, and still do."

He doesn't know what his immediate plans are, he said. "I guess I'll train around a bit and maybe go out in the middle west for a few fights. Maybe I'll swing around the country—after I find out what Kilbane is going to do."

It looks like it is up to Kilbane.

Why are you sidestepping Dundee, Johnny? Dundee himself wants to know. So does the public.

Clay Did This

A white, refined super-clay

By Edna Wallace Hopper

My complexion is the envy of countless young girls, and the marvel of millions of women.

For I, remember, have been 32 years a stage star, and am still. Mine is a grandmother's age. Yet my skin is just as soft and drowsy, just as smooth and blooming, as 40 years ago.

Scores of my friends, on the stage and in society, have attained like results in my way. So I know that most women can do it, and I am going to help them if they wish.

A New-Type Clay

You read much now about complexion clays. But these I see are crude and muddy, like I quit years ago.

A French beauty expert first told me about clays. Then few women used them, so some of those women became the marvels of nations for their wonderful complexions.

Now countless women use them. Clay is recognized as a prime essential of beauty at its best. Women who omit clay cannot hope to compare with women who employ it.

My exceptional results come from a new-type clay, perfected by 20 years of scientific study. It is white, refined and dainty. And able experts have found ways to give it manifold effects.

Where it Excels

It is found that only rare clays—certain mineral-laden clays—

bring the desired results. Modern science refines that clay—removes the useless mud.

Then the clay is white and clean and dainty. Experts also find that certain added factors give it multiplied effect.

My White Youth Clay will be a revelation to you, as it was to me. I thought I knew all that clay can do, but I did not know one-tenth.

It brings a new complexion, and quickly. Blackheads and blemishes disappear before it. Dull skins gain a rosy bloom. Wrinkles become smooth. Many women, in 30 minutes seem to drop ten years.

My Gift to Women

Now I have arranged so that all who wish may get this perfect clay, exactly as I use it. And I am taking time in my busy life to urge them to employ it.

Youth Clay does more for youth and beauty than anything I know. The results will amaze and delight you. When you know them, nothing could induce you to go back.

All toilet counters sell Edna Wallace Hopper's White Youth Clay at 50c and $1.00 per tube. Also my Youth Cream, which should follow the clay. Also my Facial Youth—my liquid cleanser. Also my Hair Youth, which brought my luxuriant hair. My Beauty Book comes with each.

For your own sake—please—go learn what this clay can do.

BIG GUNS AT SEASON'S OPENING

Mayor Curley of Boston, Judge Landis, high commissioner of baseball, Christy Mathewson, president and part owner of the Boston Braves, and Judge Fuchs, his partner, at the opening game at Boston when the Giants trimmed the Braves 4 to 1.

creases have been allowed for 1923 with further increases in 1924; in Atlantic City all trades not still under contract have been granted increases; in the Pittsburgh district increases have been granted from 10 to 25 cents an hour, for skilled mechanics, and with an increase of 10 cents after July 1.

"In San Francisco there is a shortage of labor, and contractors are nearly all paying more than the scale; in Nashville, Tenn., the labor situation is reported easier with five cuts in wages and two increases effective May 1; in Omaha, Neb., five trades have signed agreements and the building craft's strike is believed to be nearing a settlement; the carpenters have returned to work at $1.10 an hour, an increase of 10 cents. Other crafts have also received increases.

"In Erie, Pa., contracts have been signed giving increases to carpenters and tile setters and some other trades; in Richmond, Ind., new scales have been signed covering two years with bricklayers at $1.40 an hour. At Shrovesport, La., bricklayers have signed at $1.50 an hour; in Portland, Oregon, where labor has been stable for a long time, a general increase of 10 per cent is now asked, but in Seattle, Wash., the present scales will probably be continued for six months. In St. Paul, Minn., increases will probably become effective June 1; in Albany, N. Y., a few increases will become effective May 1; in Toledo, many bonuses are being paid skilled mechanics while common labor has been advanced from 10 to 15 cents an hour.

"Early settlement of the situation in New York is anticipated. Despite the prompt refusal of employers to meet all the new demands of the unions, it is not now believed that any serious strikes will occur. Bricklayers now receiving $4 to $10 above the $10 daily scale will it is believed continue to enjoy bonuses. Many new scales have been signed up on an increased basis, and bonuses will continue in many crafts.

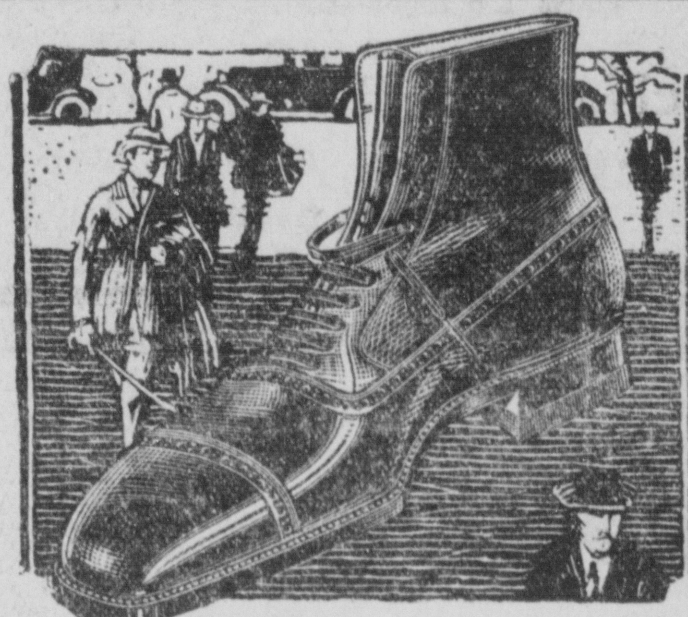

"Reports indicate that the common labor rate for the nation, as applied to pick and shovel men in construction operations, is placed at 5 cent an hour as against 49 cents for the preceding month."

DODGE BROTHERS TYPE-A SEDAN

Its dependability is taken for granted—its economy of operation is proverbial.

Comment, as a rule, is directed to the richness of its fittings, and the dignified beauty of its coach work.

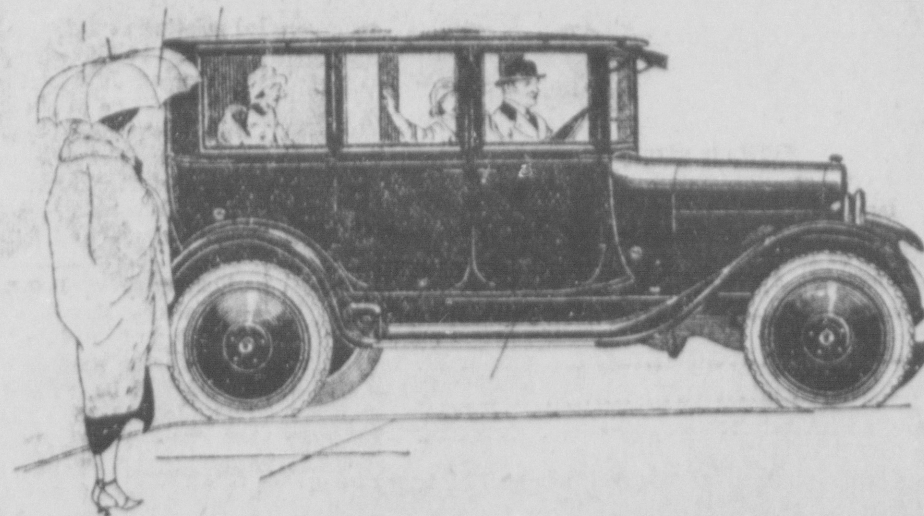

This beauty is not a superficial thing. It goes much deeper than mere external adornments.

Like all creations of genuine excellence, it emanates from the honest value which Dodge Brothers have built into the car.

You sense it in the depth and comfort of the seats—richly upholstered in genuine mohair velvet. It makes itself known the instant you close the doors—which snap solidly shut, like the doors of a safe. It emanates unmistakably from every line and curve of the sturdy body.

It becomes most evident when you discover that in smart company, where a car of less distinction would appear at its worst, Dodge Brothers Type-A Sedan appears at its best.

FRENCH EXPORTS SHOW SATISFACTORY GAINS

PARIS.—The smoking of cigarettes is increasing in the United States, if one may judge by the greater exportation of cigarette paper from France to the United States. The figures of 1922 are materially higher than those for 1921.

A general estimate based on official reports shows that there is a steady rise in the amount of merchandise that France is sending to the United States, a condition which has encouraged both the French government and French business interests. The exports last year were about 15,000,000 francs higher than in 1921. As Paris handles 66 per cent of all the French shipments to America, a good idea of the trade situation as it concerns France and the United States may be had from examining the Paris commercial balance sheets. An extraordinary feature has been the shipment of gold. In 1921 this amounted to about 275,000,000 gold dollars. In 1922 it fell to 212,500,000. But February of this year indicates a notable increase in the outflow of gold to America. The figures on gold export are easily obtainable, and people here are speculating as to what interests are responsible for the February increase. Some of it presumably reaches France from the Scandinavian countries.

American women have not lost their liking for the pretty things of France, for there has been an increase in the shipments of silk wearing apparel, both embroidered and plain, and in handkerchiefs, laces and furs. Also America has increased her taking of works of art more than 100 years old, and precious stones and pearls, both imitation and real. Other American purchases in France include leather, cotton clothing, artificial flowers, block-eds or trimmed hats, musical instruments, silk, underwear and knitted goods. A falling off in exportation of porcelain and gloves from the Limoges district is due to the difficulty of finding skilled workers. Increased prices of raw material and labor have pushed the finished product up so high as to interfere with foreign sales despite the value of the franc, which is favorable to exportation.

HUGE METEOR, LOST CENTURY, FOUND AGAIN

BUENOS AIRES.—The whereabouts of an aerolite of great size, which was revealed to the Spanish conquerors by Indians about the middle of the seventeenth century, and of which traces have been lost since the year 1821, have again been ascertained, according to a communication received by Professor Clemente Onelli, an Argentine naturalist, from a Senor Leberthou, who claims the rediscovery. The aerolite is located in the province of Santiago del Estero, in the uninhabited Otumpa pampa, which is also known as "Sky Pampa," after the celestial origin of the stone.

Up to the year 1812 the situation of the aerolite was well known, and from the minerals which constitute its mass several flint-lock muskets were made. It was about the middle of the seventeenth century that the Spaniards, guided by the Vilelas Indians, discovered the great meteoric mass, half buried in the sands. Reports say that a large portion was brought to Buenos Aires and a part sent to the British Museum. After the war of independence and the long period of formation of the Argentine nation has passed, several expeditions were sent out to search for the aerolite. Other attempts were made in more recent times, and it was only this year that an attempt made by the authorities of Santiago del Estero province ended in failure.

According to certain analysis alleged to have been made in 1812 the meteorite was constituted of pure meteoric iron, nickel and cobalt.

JEWETT SIX

PAIGE BUILT

A Husky Frame for the Sturdy Jewett

HERE is a frame six solid inches deep, with top flange correspondingly wide. It is a unit of tremendous strength, reinforced by in-built corner braces in front and four sturdy cross-members. This staunch construction frees the Jewett from any possible misalignment of working parts—gives unlimited endurance, genuine riding comfort.

Jewett's balanced weight and husky frame do much to give it a road motion that is steady and restful. And here's a car that doesn't need nursing over bad spots. Its 2805-pound weight holds the road—its fifty horsepower motor does the rest. Let us put a Jewett through its paces for you. Whenever you say, No obligation.

IS ODD BOUNDARY "LINE"

Explanation of Compound Curve
That Settled Dispute of Early Colonial Days.

When William Penn obtained a grant in Pennsylvania he was very desirous of owning the land on Delaware bay to the sea, and procured from the duke of York a release of all his title and claim to New Castle and a radius of 12 miles around it, and to the land between that tract and the sea. Lord Baltimore protested, but in 1685 the lords of trade and plantation made a decision in Penn's favor.

The tracts, which now constitute the state of Delaware, Penn called "The Territories," or the "Three Lower Counties on the Delaware." They were governed as part of Pennsylvania for about 20 years. In 1776 the inhabitants declared them a separate state. Then ensued a long-drawn-out dispute between Delaware and Pennsylvania over the northern boundary line. Because of the inaccuracy of the original survey of 1701, no single curve could be made to pass through the stones set up to mark off a radius of 12 miles around New Castle. An attempt to rectify the line was made by the United States coast and geodetic survey, but when a number of Delaware residents found they would be geographically in Pennsylvania they raised such a howl that the survey was dropped, and a joint boundary commission was appointed to settle the dispute. A compound curve was found to conform very closely to the original line, so it was adopted.

SUNSET IN THE DESERT

Scene of Remarkable Beauty Under the Glowing Moon and the Silver Stars.

There is no twilight in the desert. One moment the sun rides high in the heavens; the next it dies in brief, few moments of ruddy after-glow, and then at one bound comes the dark. One by one the stars appear, as when the lights are turned on at nightfall in a city, until the purple velvet sky is lit out across by a broad swath of silver, dust, the Milky Way. And so we would fall asleep, lulled by the murmur of the Arab voices and the grumbling of the camels. . . . Above us a moon that looked like an enormous silver plate, and the stars very near. It is usually late before the camp falls asleep. The fires die down to beds of glowing embers. The night wind rises, and I draw my blankets about me more closely. I can discern the dim, misshapen forms of the camels tethered outside the zereba walls. A sentry, ride on shoulder, muffled to the eyes in his ablah, moves past on noiseless feet. A jackal howls in the darkness. Something rustles in the undergrowth—a snake or a lizard, no doubt. The moon transforms the yellow desert into a lake of molten amber. Over everything a magic silence falls. . . . Alexander Powell, in the Century Magazine.

Try This on Your Links.
Perkins was a billiard and pool "shark" and Watkins had tried for two years to get good enough to beat him at the game, but with no luck. Last year Watkins gave up in disgust and quit the billiard table for the golf links. Here he had better success in becoming proficient and, after one season's play, found himself able to approach within a respectable distance of old Colonel Bogey.

Watkins borrowed an extra set of clubs and, after some tall persuasion, got Perkins out on the links for a round of golf. Perkins was like a flapper in a long skirt. Watkins rubbed it in and gloated over his victim to the utmost. The game was a bit lop-sided and Watkins was soon 10 up on the 18 holes. Perkins saw how badly he had been beaten, but he was a true sportsman and a game bird.

"Well, you won that game, I guess," he said to Watkins. "Scratch never was my game, anyway. Now let's play a round of call-shot."

End of Cromagnon Age.
About 15,000 years ago the Cromagnon age in Europe came to an abrupt end. There developed a sudden mildness to the climate, accompanied by cool rains. Heavy forests sprang up on what had been the open grass lands of wild reindeer, wild horses and wild bison. Glaciers pulled back up their Alpine slopes; the ice fields that were over what is now Norway and Sweden melted away. The Pleistocene age was over and the modern age was at hand. Cromagnon people all but vanished from western Europe. Cromagnon art was no more. Whether these wild chestnut-haired hunters followed the ice into what is now Russia, or whether they became extinct, no one knows. Certain it is their former lands were deserted when the next race of man appeared.

Had Its Advantages.
The two men from a remote part up north had bought London clothes. They thought something of themselves on Sunday, and so did their relatives when they returned home. But one of the pair noticed that his new coat began to show creases.

"You ought to have a coat hanger I think, Bill," said his friend. A few days later he asked if the coat hanger was satisfactory. "It's all right," grumbled Bill, "but the wood hurts my shoulder blades and the hook shows my hat over my eyes."

Unselfishness.
"Could you be happy as a poor man's wife?" "It isn't a question of my own happiness," replied Miss Cayenne. "Think of how unhappy I'd make the poor man."

AUTO STOLEN FROM SQUARE SATURDAY

Car thieves were abroad in the city Saturday afternoon and operated boldly in the heart of the business district. A Ford touring car belonging to Rev. O. C. Bolman, 914 West College avenue, was taken from the parking space in the center of the street in front of Rabjohns & Reid's store sometime between 2 and 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Rev. Bolman had parked the car in one of the allotted spaces and gone to attend to some business. When he returned to get his car it was gone. Sheriff and police authorities were immediately notified. Rev. Bolman also sent word of the theft to the insurance company headquarters in Springfield, where the machine was insured, $9,504, and the engine number is 6,637,330.

"PA" LET IN WRONG MAN

Sleepy Old Gentleman Admitted Fellow Tenant and Did Not Know It Until Next Day.

Not every householder would be as fortunate as was Jones in making a mistake and not suffering for it.
Remarks a New York Sun writer.
The man he let into his apartment
two nights ago may have looked like his son to him in his sleepy state,
and he may have been so sleepy or some other way himself that he didn't know the flat, but in any event they both were mistaken. And yet nothing came of it.

When Jones, Jr., called his father on the phone at the latter's office the following conversation ensued:
Junior—Were you worried when I didn't get in last night? I couldn't phone you that I was staying with Bill for the night.

Jones—Do you mean to say you didn't come home last night?
Junior—Why, no. You ought to know that yourself. We were going to let me in.

Jones—I did let you in. What are you talking about? You got me out of bed at one in the morning.

Junior—I did nothing of the kind.
I never came in till this morning at
ten. You must be seeing things.
When Jones got to the haunted apartment he found a note from the tenant above. It read: "Dear Jones:
Sorry I troubled you last night. I didn't know till you stumbled back to your room that I had the wrong floor. I sneaked out without noise
so as not to trouble you further.
Hope you didn't think I was a burglar when you woke up. Yours, Brown."

MELODY LIFE OF MUSIC

No Training So Complete or Thorough Will Suffice Without It,
According to Master.

What gives life to a work, what makes it true, will never be its characteristics, polytonal or atonal, but, rather, its essential melody. Thence springs its real power, because it comes straight from the heart of the musician. There is no training so complete or so thorough that it can suffice without that melodic source, Darius Milhaud writes in the North American Review. It is the primary element, the authentic organic one,
that comes from the pure sentiment itself and that is conducive to rhythmic and harmonic design. Without melody all composing will fall
or end in vain rhetoric, quite conventional and empty. It is the entire secret of music, which I found out one day when I was studying at the conservatoire with my master, Andre Gedalge. I was showing him some vast symphonic plan or other
and he said to me:

"Just write for me eight measures that can be played without any accompaniment."

Melody is thus our aim and greatest ambition.
It alone will allow us to work by our imagination and yet keep close to the tradition which we feel to be ours.

"Treasury of Hidden Secrets."

A book called "The Treasury of Hidden Secrets" was written and printed by Jane Bell in London in 1853. The title page tells the readers that it is "The Treasury of Hidden Secrets, commonly called the Good Housewives' Closet of Provision for the Health of her Household,
gathered out of sundry experiments,
lately practiced by men of great knowledge, and now newly enlarged with diverse physick helps, and knowledge of the names and disposition of diseases that most commonly happen to men and women.

"Not impertinent for every good housewife to use in her house, amongst her own Family."

Miss Bell dedicates her book "to all women that love and profess
the practice of good housewifery, as well as wives as maidens."

After turning the pages of the book and deciphering the old English printing, one is rather in doubt whether it is a cook book for humans. It reads more like the recipes might be for the fairies.

Long-Time Tenant Rewarded.
Stories extolling the virtues of a landlord are heard so seldom that they bear repeating. This one comes from Paris:

An aged woman in a tenement in the Latin quarter not only is no longer compelled to pay rent but is supported by donations from the landlord and tenants of the building.
This unusual generosity is due to the fact that the woman has lived in the same apartment for 75 years.
Neighbors called the landlord's attention to the woman's plight. A search of the records showed that not a single quarterly rent instalment had been missed during the last 75 years.

Old "Ticket-of-Leave" System.

The "Ticket-of-Leave" was a written permit first granted by the English government in 1854, whereby a penal convict was given his liberty
before the expiration of his term, as a reward of good conduct while in prison. He was obliged, however,
to report to the police at stated times until his sentence expired, and if a fresh crime was committed by him during that period, his ticket-
of-leave was immediately recalled.

In 1861-1863, the system proved to be a failure, owing to the many crimes committed by the prisoners
thus set at liberty, and the practice was virtually abolished by the penal servitude act of 1864.

Reason to Laugh.

Nervous passenger (in aerial taxi, about 5,000 feet up)—W-w-what are you laughing at, driver?

Driver—I am just laughing at the superintendent. About this time he'll be searching for me all over the lunatic asylum.

Has Leading Part.

"My brother has a leading part in that drama."
"What part?"

"He lends a horse across the stage in the last act."

EYE AFFECTS WHOLE BODY

Why Routine Examination of School Children Is Imperative Is Explained by Authority.

Dr. de Schweinitz, in Hygela,
first points out that only about 4
per cent of eyes are entirely normal according to the usual standards. At birth nearly all eyes are far-sighted.
Near-sighted eyes most commonly make their appearance from the sixth to the tenth year of life, that is to say, especially during school years. Such errors when marked give rise to eyestrain or "weak eyes."

While it is true that few eyes are absolutely normal, many approach it so closely that for all practical purposes they may be considered normal. They do not give rise to discomfort, and correcting glasses are not required, at least, in younger years. But it must be realized further that good vision and painless eyes do not necessarily exclude eyestrain; and eyestrain
may cause headache, pains in various parts of the body, twitching of the face, night terrors, nervousness, indigestion and many other symptoms. The need for the routine examination of the eyes of school children is therefore clear, and the possible effects of failure to recognize the fact of eye trouble are pointed out. These effects are not limited to the eye itself. "The eye is not confined as it were, to a little area
of its own, subject to diseases and defects unconnected with the rest of the body. Quite the contrary. It is most intimate in its relation to the rest of the body." "The problems which surround it, whether they relate to optical faults or to disease, are medical problems, and must be solved with this fact always in view."

WEAKNESS IN SELF-PITY

Can Properly Be Set Down Not Only as a Bad Habit but a Poisonous One.

Have you among your friends or acquaintances any men or women who are always pitying themselves?
If so, you can put them down as weaklings. Self-pity is self-destruction. Self-pity breeds despair. The strong don't indulge in self-pity.
They are too busy thinking and working and talking constructively.
They are intent on attaining some object, some goal. They are so engrossed in practicing self-help that they have no time to waste on self-pity.

Self-pity is not only a bad habit;
it is a poisonous habit. It hurts self and it disgusts others. The person who is chronically guilty of self-pity hasn't in him the spirit of self-sacrifice, and without self-sacrifice
no human being can qualify to go far or rise far. Self-pity reveals a lack of self-discipline. We all encounter difficulties and discouragements; we all have ambitions
thwarted. But we do not let discouragements discourage; we do not give up because balked and thwarted time and again; we do not wear
our occasional streaks of pessimism
on our sleeve or on our countenance.
We keep a stiff upper lip. We wrestle on. And we smile on. We don't become cry babies. We may inwardly wince, but we don't flinch.
We don't pour tales of woe into the ears of others—we know they have troubles enough of their own.

We refuse to be cowards. We refuse to wear the white feather. We strive to be men. We become men.
We are men.—Forbes Magazine.

Clerk's One-Cylinder Mind.

"I usually know what I want and when I do I ask for it explicitly,"
said the Man Who Grumbles. "Yesterday I entered a paint store and,
to the clerk who offered to wait on me, I said: 'I want a quart of white paint, best quality, for wood, to be used outside.'"

"The clerk seemed puzzled. He studied a moment and asked: 'How much do you want?' I told him. He seemed satisfied and, after a brief
pause, asked: 'Interior or outside?'
I again supplied the information.
He made no objection, but still sought information. 'Going to use it on wood?' he suggested. I assured him that I intended to smear
it on my window frames and they are of wood."

"I thought the transaction was about to be closed, but the clerk
was still in doubt on one point.
'What color?' he asked cheerfully.
I satisfied his curiosity and he got the paint for me. Stupid? Not a bit. He simply had a one-cylinder mind. I had supplied too many facts for him to assimilate at once."—
New York Sun.

Sociability an Asset.

A political candidate, on paying a second visit to the house of a doubtful voter of the agricultural class
was very pleased but somewhat surprised on hearing from the elector
that he would support him.
"Glad to hear it," said the candidate. "I thought you were against me."

"I was at first," said the other.
"The other day when you called here and stood by that pig sty and talked for half an hour you didn't budge me an inch."

"But after you had gone away
sir, I got to thinkin' how you'd reached your hand over the rail and scratched the pig's back until he lay down with the pleasure of it. I made up my mind then that when a man was so sociable as that with a poor fellow creature I wasn't the man to vote against him."—Harper's Magazine.

Making It Regular.

"I appointed a lady lawyer a receiver today."

"How did she take to it, Judge?"

"Asked me if she could invite some other ladies to help her receive."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Just a Sly Dig.

Mr. Jolly (seeing his wife attending to flowers)—What a great little

spond to your touch.

Mrs. Jolly—Yes; you're the only

AFRICA'S RICHES NEED U. S. CAPITAL

(By The Associated Press)

CAPE TOWN, South Africa.—
Probably at no period in the last 25 years has there been such manifest activity in the development of Africa's resources as at present. In the southern subcontinent, the Union of South Africa is constructing many new railway lines and electrifying several important existing routes.
Projects for new harbors from Cape Town to Kosi Bay are under consideration, while the Portuguese areas pending millions in port and railway equipment at Delagoa Bay and Beira. Portuguese capitalists are discussing other projects of equal magnitude
in the Portuguese colonies in conjunction with American, British and Belgian capital.

In the Belgian Congo, which admittedly is the most progressive part of Africa today, the central spine of the Cape to Cairo route is still broken by the existing breach from the Congo to the Nile, but no less than five railway routes are being surveyed for early construction, while a magnificent system of equatorial roads is materializing to synchronize
with the growing motor traffic, connecting thereby the numerous profitable mines and tropical plantations with the river steamers and existing main railroads
in this prosperous Belgian colony.

In the Nile Valley, from the Delta to Lake Victoria Nyanza, is to be found Africa's richest Pandora's box which only awaits opening to surprise the world
with its great mineral treasures.
To the east along the coast of the Red Sea, there are rich oil wells and huge phosphate

deposits. In Kenya Province
there is great industrial activity
both by the government and the settler community. In Tanganyika Territory there are great fertile plantation areas with immense mineral potentialities, and American capitalists are being urged to come there and develop them.

Indications of coal and metal-iferous wealth have been found in the Portuguese colonies of Nyassa-land and Zambezia, but there is no country that commands sufficient resources to develop them except the United States. Foreign residents of Africa say there are fortunes to be made here by those who are willing to undertake the work of development.

Mrs. Mary Ricks, who has been a patient for some time at Passavant hospital, has recovered from her illness, and has gone to the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. H.
PHELPS, on East College street, where she will stay for some time.

Passenger conductor E. B. Watson of the C. & A. visited at Passavant hospital yesterday, calling on Messrs. Brown and Bright, railroad employees who have been patients at the hospital for some time.

BRITISH CHEMICALS ARE IN DEMAND

London.—The chemical industry of England is rapidly developing owing to the restricted output and higher prices charged by her chief competitor, Germany, according to a recent report. The sales of the industry are more than three times the amount reported before the war and almost double that of two years

Orders are being received daily from countries which have never before come to England for their chemical supplies. This is particularly true in the case of dyestuffs.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR
ANNOUNCEMENT
of Interest to MILLIONS of FAMILIES

"I will build a car for the multitude"

Said Henry Ford in 1903—Read how the fulfillment of that prophecy is now made possible through the

Ford Weekly Purchase Plan

For many years it has been Henry Ford's personal ambition to make the Ford the universal family car—to put it within the reach of the millions of people who have never been privileged to enjoy the benefits of motor car ownership.

During the past fifteen years over 7,500,000 Ford cars have been placed in the hands of retail customers—more than a million and a half of them within the past twelve months—and yet there are still millions of families, who are hopefully looking forward to the day when they can own a Ford.

And now the way is open.

Under the terms of this plan you can select your Ford Car, set aside a small amount each week and you will be surprised how soon you will own it. In the meantime your money will be safely deposited to your credit in one of the local banks where it will draw interest.

Think it over. Five dollars will start an account. The whole family can participate in it—father, mother, brothers and sisters each doing a little.
Why not start today. Stop in and talk it over with your local Ford dealer. He will be glad to fully explain the details of the plan and help you get started toward the ownership of a Ford car.

FUTURES WEAK IN CASH MARKET

CHICAGO, April 21.—Wheat in the cash market today was weak with the futures during the session firmed up at the close.
Prices showed a decline of 1c a bushel compared with the closing of yesterday. Cash sales here were 25,000 bushels. The seaboard estimated 1,000,000 bushels of wheat worked for export and premiums were reported 1c better.

Corn closed 1/4c easier in price with premiums unchanged to 1/4c better on mixed and yellow grades. White was unchanged to 1/4c better. Cash sales here were 119,000 bushels.
There were sales of 25,000 bushels
to go to store here.

Oats closed 1/4c easier in price.
Premiums were practically unchanged. Cash sales here were 70,000 bushels.

Cars inspected: wheat 27; corn
107; oats 56.

SHARP REDUCTION IN BUTTER PRICES

CHICAGO, April 21.—A sharp reduction in values in the butter market today aroused some interest which in turn resulted in a steadier feeling. Trading was fairly active and stocks more closely cleaned up.

Better grades were more firmly held with supplies not very burdensome. Good inquiry for $9 score cars but business limited
by supply and the prices buyers
would not pay.

Centralized car lots: 90 score,
41; 89 score 40.

Chicago Live Stock Market

Even one pimple can ruin your looks. S.S.S. stops pimples!

A beautiful complexion is born in your blood. It also dies there, if you let it. Blood that is rich in Blood-Cells is pure. It shows its purity through the skin.

When one pimple comes out on your face, you can be almost certain that there are more to follow. It also means that impurities are accumulating in your blood to make your complexion worse instead of better. Face creams will not solve the trouble. There is always one quick and sure way to make your complexion free from all eruptions, pimples, blackheads and muddiness by building up the skin-purifying "machinery" which is in your blood. That is by building up your red-blood-cells. S.S.S. is admitted to be the leader among skin beautifiers.

You will be startled how quickly and thoroughly you can stop skin eruptions and beautify your complexion with S.S.S.

S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again

Miss Ethel Rose, 422 E. Water St., Painted Post, N. Y., writes: "I followed your advice in regard to S. S. S., and am pleased to state that I have been greatly benefited by it. All that has been said in favor of S. S. S. I have found to be true as applied to my case, as it has certainly purified my system and my complexion is now clear. As you know, my trouble was pimples on the face, neck and chest."

Rich blood, rosy face. Poor blood, "muddy" face. There are thousands of women who wonder why their complexions do not improve in spite of all the face treatments they use. They should not continue to wonder. Increase your blood-cells—that is the only answer. Use S. S. S.—that is the only answer. S. S. S. contains only pure vegetable medicinal ingredients. It is also a remarkable builder of firm flesh, which is also important to beauty. It will fill out your hollow cheeks, put the "ruby" of health in your cheeks, and the sparkle in your eyes. It is all done by building blood-cells. S. S. S. does it.

Since 1826 S. S. S. has been beautifying complexions, and giving women physical charm—all through one great secret, the blood-cell. S. S. S. is known and accepted as one of the greatest of all body-cleansers and blood-builders. Try it if you have pimples, blackheads, boils, eczema and skin eruptions. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is the more economical.

SEED CORN

THE COLUMBIANA FARMS at ELDRED, ILLINOIS, Greene County, again have carefully selected and tested seed corn of strong germination for the Spring of 1923, which they produced in 1922, from DISEASE FREE SEED CORN, purchased from the FUNK BROTHERS SEED COMPANY at $10.00 per bushel. This corn is Yellow Dent, called Utility Type. The medium, smooth, well matured ears will give higher yields and better quality than the rough starchy corn which is later in maturity, lighter in weight, with inferior root development, more barren stalks, and has less vitality to resist unfavorable weather.

The corn will be distributed to farmers in Morgan County, Illinois,

SOME ADVANTAGES TO BE HAD BY CONSOLIDATION

(By B. F. Shafer, Supt. Schools)
Paper No. 6

With the improvement of roads, the development of modern agricultural methods and the coming of the automobile, communities are becoming more highly centralized. A farmer who owns an automobile, although he may live eight or ten miles from the city, frequently gets more recreation out of the city parks or pleasure from the boulevards than do a large percentage of the city people who do not own machines.

The resulting social and inter-community life is poorly if at all developed by the one room district school. These schools do not at all compare with the consolidated school in training for citizenship thru social intercommunication. These aspects of the nature of the boys and girls who come from the rural districts are very often poorly developed. Most adults have felt the need of being able to meet people and meet well and as a result are desirous of providing such training for their own children. Men and women who have experienced this need will see great opportunities in the consolidated school.

The chief reasons why the people of Jacksonville might be interested in the consolidation of their school district with those in the immediate vicinities are as follows:

1. By consolidation we would be able to provide modern grade school buildings within a very few years.

2. The building program could be carried thru without increasing the taxes of the people in Jacksonville, many of whom are already complaining about high taxes.

3. It would make our city in reality the educational center of the surrounding community and thereby bring the surrounding community into closer relationship with us.

4. As most of the young people in these districts with which it is proposed we consolidate are going to be our future citizens or the citizens with which those in Jacksonville will be in constant contact, we should be interested in extending to these young people the very best educational opportunities possible.

It is not necessary to enlarge upon the reasons mentioned in the above statements. Perhaps others might be added but it seems to me that these are the really things to be considered in making up our minds as to whether it is advisable for us to consolidate with the surrounding districts. Of course, there are some reasons which could be argued in opposition to consolidation but these will not be discussed in this article.

As to the districts immediately surrounding us it seems to me that the only possible objection which they could raise would be the increased cost. Surely everyone considers expenditures for education money well invested. While there will be an additional cost to these people, there will be returns in the form of increased educational opportunities which will surely justify this expenditure.

The districts with which it is proposed we consolidate would immediately be relieved of the non-high school district tax which is now being raised for the purpose of paying the tuition of the boys and girls who are attending high school. The high school privileges of the boys and girls of Jacksonville would be immediately extended to all eighth grade graduates within this territory.

Our junior high school, which at present comprises the seventh and eighth grades, would immediately open its doors to all of the seventh and eighth grade people of the enlarged district. The advantages of this privilege can hardly be over estimated. Junior high schools, such as the one which we have, are doing a radically different type of work from that which is done in the ordinary seventh and eighth grades and as I believe a very superior type of work. As most boys and girls get into the seventh and eighth grades before they are the age of compulsory school attendance, I feel sure that most of the boys and girls of the rural community surrounding Jacksonville having once attended the junior high school would not consider leaving off their school work until they had also graduated from the senior high school.

The one room district school with all of its inefficiencies would be discarded. Little real teaching can be done in these schools. The teacher may be ever so earnest in her work but because of the variety of grades represented in her school, it is often difficult for her to do more than merely hear recitations through the entire day. The teacher is often a young, inexperienced, and poorly trained teacher.

Larger school centers would be established, school centers where each teacher while having from twenty-five to thirty students under her care, they would all be about the same age and grade. Furthermore, these teachers would work under the expert supervision of a principal and would constantly be associated with other teachers in the building with whom they might discuss their problems.

The services of our special supervisors, such as our supervisors of music, art and physical education, would be extended to these pupils. These things, while perhaps they do not contribute in a very direct way to one's ability to make a living, they do add something which enriches life, makes it more worth living and adds to our appreciation of the beautiful. These courses represent a training which is sadly lacking in great numbers of our citizens.

Having voted for consolidation there is the satisfaction of knowing you are not subject to a possible tax of $5.50 for educational purposes. This would be the case were the district to be included in a community high school district for then, both the high school district and the local district would have a taxing power of $2.75. By the consolidation of school districts we mean merely the formation of a larger school district which when formed will have the same powers as are now proposed by the smaller district. Under such an arrangement the maximum tax which can be levied without a special vote of the people is $2.75 and with a vote of the people it cannot be more than $4.00.

By a discussion of the various points mentioned, this article might be extended indefinitely. I shall be content, however, with merely presenting them in this summary fashion for your consideration. I have attended the one room school and with this experience as a background, I feel quite sure that my judgment is not far wrong when I predict that with the advent of good roads it will only be a matter of time until practically all one room district schools will be discarded thru the formation of consolidated school districts. In one of our neighboring states there are several counties in which there is not a single one room school building left. The enthusiasm of the people for consolidation where it has been effected is proof of its efficiency. No consolidated school district has ever been dissolved. All the scientific studies of achievements which I have regard of as having been made of the work of these school indicate a type of work which is far superior to that of the old district school. Thru the employment of better trained teachers and by relieving the individual teacher from the necessity of hearing from twenty-five to thirty recitations per day, there is a far greater opportunity for the adaptation of the work of the school to the needs of the community.

GUESTS OF MAHARAJA HUNT PANTHERS IN PALACE GARDEN

Bombay.—The numerous inhabitants of the Palace of the Maharaja at Nandod, capital of the state of Rajpura, guests, servants and retainers, were thrown into a panic early one morning recently when the news was broadcast throughout the buildings and grounds that a panther had been seen in the gardens.

A shooting party of the guests was hurriedly formed, various members of which climbed to points of vantage on the roofs of the many small buildings scattered thruout the palace grounds. In the meantime natives beat the gardens to drive the beast from shelter.

Eventually a whole family of panthers, consisting of a big-sized pair and a full-grown cub, was turned out. After an exciting chase all three animals were killed by the sharpshooters. A large crowd of natives, unconscious of the risk to which they were exposing themselves, collected in and around the gardens.
